

STOCKS SET VALUES BREAK TWO BILLIONS

Increase in Federal Reserve Discount Rate Given as Cause of Wall Street Deluge.

EUROPEAN CITIES ARE AFFECTED

Flood of Selling Drives Prices Down Five to Thirty Dollars as Bears Press Victory.

BY STANLEY W. PRENOSIL,
Associated Press Financial Editor.
New York, August 9.—(AP)—The top-heavy speculative structure, created in the securities markets of the United States by the wild speculation of the last few months, was rocked to its foundations today by the bomb shell of a higher New York federal reserve discount rate hurried into the financial district after the close of business yesterday.

Prices of active issues on the New York Stock Exchange tumbled $5 to $30 a share, and some inactive stocks dropped $40, and similar recessions took place on the New York Curb Exchange and in the stock markets of Boston, Philadelphia, Chicago, San Francisco, Los Angeles and other large cities. The repercussions even was felt in the bourses of Europe.

Two billion dollars, or more, in the quoted values of American securities was wiped out during the day, most of it in the first 15 minutes of trading. Measured by the leading stock market indices, the reaction was the severest on record, although in percentage it probably fell short of the drastic break which followed the first federal reserve warning six months ago, when prices were considerably below recent high levels.

Wall Street had seldom seen such an accumulation of overnight selling orders. On the New York Stock Exchange at least a score of stocks opened at prices 10 to 25 percent below their closing prices of the previous day. The New York Curb Exchange was a scene of confusion, with 50,000 shares of stock and a block of 100,000 "rights."

TAPE 20 MINUTES BEHIND.

Total sales in the first half hour on the stock exchange ran close to 1,300,000 shares, with the tape 20 minutes late, but trading slowed up considerably later, and the tape was only a couple of minutes behind the market at the close. The total sales were 5,022,350 shares, the largest in about five months, but well below the record of 8,246,740 on March 26. Two efforts were made to bring about a rally, one the first half hour of selling had spent its force half an hour after the market opened, and another in the early afternoon, but both proved unsuccessful. Final quotations generally were around the lowest of the day, although the late selling of an order character and did not have the puny aspect of opening transactions.

The following table illustrates the extent of the decline and the loss in quoted values in an assortment of the leading industrial, railroad and public utility stocks:

STOCKS	Close	Loss	Aggregate
U. S. Steel	23 1/4	1 1/4	$1,235,000
General Electric	19 1/2	1 1/2	1,370,000
General Motors	24 1/2	1 1/2	1,370,000
Western Union	23 1/2	1 1/2	1,370,000
American Can	17 1/2	1 1/2	1,370,000

INDUSTRIALS.

Aluminum	26 1/2	1 1/2	1,370,000
Am. Central	10 1/2	1 1/2	1,370,000
Am. Pacific	10 1/2	1 1/2	1,370,000
Am. Sugar	10 1/2	1 1/2	1,370,000
Am. Tobacco	10 1/2	1 1/2	1,370,000

PUBLIC UTILITIES.

Am. Telephone	134 1/2	1 1/2	1,370,000
Edison	10 1/2	1 1/2	1,370,000
Consolidated Gas	10 1/2	1 1/2	1,370,000
Am. Wat. Wks.	10 1/2	1 1/2	1,370,000
Pub. Ser. of N. Y.	10 1/2	1 1/2	1,370,000

The rise in the New York federal reserve discount rate coincided with the increase of $600,000,000 in brokers' loans, the outstanding federal reserve member banks had been increased $600,000,000 for the first time. This compared with a total of $4,274,000,000 a year ago, the bulk of the gain in the year being "for the account of the New York City Federal Reserve Bank."

MYSTERY CHAMBER NEXT TO CAPITOL DUG UP BY WORKERS

Washington, August 9.—(AP)—Workmen excavating for sewer construction in the plaza in front of the capitol today uncovered a huge subterranean chamber which is not described in any of the building's blueprints. The chamber is situated to the left of the steps on which the presidential inauguration ceremonies are held.

The only explanation capitol architects could give for the mysterious chamber was that it might have been an old water reservoir or coal storage room.

The chamber's roof is only about two feet from the surface. The room itself is about 80 by 80 feet and was examined by workmen with searchlights and other implements estimated to be more than 75 years old. Several large stalcactites also had formed on the roof.

A small passageway was found leading to the main body of the capitol. At the end of this hall there was a door which had been sealed. No visible connection to the chamber exists within the capitol itself.

THE ATLANTA RECORD In Swift Crossing Of North Atlantic

CRISIS IS ACUTE IN REPARATIONS SNARL AT HAGUE

MacDonald Orders Plane, Presumably To Fly to Conference With Adamant British Delegate.

London, August 10.—(Saturday)—It was reported here early today that Prime Minister Ramsay MacDonald had ordered an airplane to pick him up at Lossiemouth, Scotland, at 10 a. m. for a southward flight to an unnamed destination. One suggestion made was that he was going to The Hague to confer with Chancellor of the Exchequer Snowden, but nothing could be learned officially.

SNOWDEN STANDS ON BRITISH DEMAND.

The Hague, Netherlands, August 9.—(AP)—A showdown on the British demand for revision of the Young plan distribution of German reparations payments is expected tomorrow morning at a meeting of the financial committee of the Hague conference to put the plan into effect.

Philip Snowden's resolution providing for the appointment of a subcommittee to study revision of the Young plan to meet British requirements will then come before the committee.

Premier Briand, of France, tonight issued a statement declaring that Britain was alone and aligned against the conference. He said that the Paris changes in the Spa percentages for distribution of reparations among the allies. He did not believe that the conference could fail because of this stalemate but emphasized that the whole hope of the peace of Europe depended on the outcome. He said that the arguments produced by Britain had not induced any others to modify their standpoint.

British May Withdraw.

It was rumored tonight that Mr. Snowden had declared he would return to London on Monday if the British claims were not granted before that time.

There was apparently no change in the lineup of the powers on adoption of the Young plan, with France, Italy and Belgium determined on original adoption. If Mr. Snowden demands a vote tomorrow on his resolution as it stands, Great Britain is certain to be the only big power to vote against it, and perhaps the only power.

There was an impression in British circles tonight that the smaller powers, some of which are discontented with their own shares, would swing to the British side. But this could not be confirmed in the face of the fact that the British position has been assumed since Mr. Snowden surprised them by the vigor of his demands for return to the Spa percentages.

Assails Young Plan.

The British chancellor has said "The Young committee had no right to interfere with the Spa percentages for the distribution of reparations. The British delegation must have a decision on these questions before it can proceed any further. I have laid all my cards on the table." He added "Two conditions."

Although financial features of the Young plan deadlocked the financial committee, the political committee made progress today toward settlement of the question of evacuation of the Rhineland. Private talks between British Foreign Secretary Arthur Henderson and Foreign Minister Gustav Stresemann of Germany, that much to smooth the way for Franco-German understanding on this difficult problem.

The single obstacle to complete accord tonight was whether an invisible control commission should "the committee of conciliation" be set up to supervise the evacuation of the Rhineland after evacuation had been completed.

Five Nations for Young Plan.

"Of the six great powers that collaborated in the elaboration of the Young plan," the French premier went on, "five have signified clearly that they approve its adoption integrally with the exception of minor details. The single power has pronounced against it. It has defended its thesis strongly, but it may be said it has not succeeded in inducing the others to modify their standpoint."

"The situation is grave if it is evident, but it is without remedy? I obstinately refuse to believe so. Reasonable opinion has been raised in the face of five others must therefore necessarily result in a check of the conference if the five others do not submit? I expect that in spite of all the French treasury will come from negotiations after a few hours of reflection."

"I cannot admit for a moment that a conference like this will fail. It goes far beyond any financial considerations that can be foreseen. One may say that it carries with it the whole hope of the peace of Europe."

MDONALD ACTION U. S. ONLY HOPE.

Washington, August 9.—(AP)—Intervention by Prime Minister MacDonald, single looked upon by official and diplomatic circles here tonight as the only hope of averting a collapse of the conference at The Hague concerning the German reparations settlement of the German reparations conference.

Joseph P. Cotton, the acting secretary of state, said today that the British position was not as extreme as it had been reported.

100 MILES PER HOUR SPEED AMAZES

Changes Course To Fly Directly Over London; Weather Reported Favorable All Way Over.

SETS RECORD FOR CROSSING.

London, August 10.—(Saturday)—(United News).—The dirigible Graf Zeppelin reported itself racing in darkness near the English channel early today, approaching the end of the first lap of its trip around the world after a record-shattering flight across the north Atlantic ocean.

It was estimated that the big dirigible air liner—if it continues the terrific pace it was setting this morning—should land its 22 passengers at Friedrichshafen, Germany, possibly before 10 a. m. (5 a. m. eastern standard time).

The Graf Zeppelin rushed in from the darkness of the Atlantic shortly after midnight, according to its radio messages, setting a surprising speed of about 100 miles an hour as it flew over the Scilly Isles off the southwestern tip of England—Lands End.

TO FLY DIRECTLY OVER LONDON.

New York, August 9.—(AP)—Karl H. Von Wiegand, correspondent aboard the Graf Zeppelin on its Heerdt-Zeppelin round-the-world flight, in a copyrighted dispatch to the New York American and Allied Hearst newspapers, said that at 8 p. m. New York daylight time, the Zeppelin was over Lands End, England, making the crossing in 44 hours from Lakehurst. He said:

"Three more hours and we will be over London. Weather is favorable and has been most of the way. We had a 40-mile tail wind which increased the speed to 105 miles an hour. We are flying at an altitude of 1,600 feet. Dr. Eckener has decided to pass directly over London."

GRAF PASSES OVER PARIS.

New York, August 10.—(Saturday).—The Radio Corporation of America this morning announced receipt of a dispatch from its Paris office which said the Graf Zeppelin passed over the French capital at 5:35 a. m. G. M. T. (12:35 A. M. E. S. T.).

SWISS AVIATORS VANISH ON TEST FOR ATLANTIC HOP

Le Bourget, France, August 9.—(AP)—Three young Swiss aviators flew away from this field yesterday, and as far as this vicinity is concerned, vanished into thin air. They had said they were going to Lisbon, Portugal, preparatory to an attempt to fly across the Atlantic.

There has been no news of them from any source and there was much speculation as to whether their plane had cracked up or had landed near some small town without wire communications with the capital.

When they arrived here on Monday from Zurich they said nothing about their plans for a trans-Atlantic flight. The curiosity of custom examiners was aroused by the large extra fuel tanks and the aviators then admitted that they intended to fly to New York from Lisbon. They gave little other information and most of the French newspapers have not seemed to take the project seriously.

ADOLPHE MENJOU WINS CONTRACT IN FRENCH FILMS

Paris, August 9.—(United News).—Adolphe Menjou, American motion picture star, who came to Europe to seek work when producers in his own country turned their backs on him, has found a job.

The Pathe Cinema, it was learned today, has contracted with the actor to make pictures in France.

Menjou left the United States a month ago, claiming American producers had entered into a conspiracy against him for no other reason apparently than to make him work for a salary lower than he had been receiving.

Recommendation That Status Be Left the Same Will Leave $1,500,000 Deficit in 1930 and 1931.

BY PAUL STEVENSON.

Appropriations of the 1929 legislative session will neither be materially increased nor decreased beyond the present items fixed at the 1927 session, according to recommendations the house appropriations committee is expected to make Saturday morning.

The increase of more than $1,000,000 recommended by the state budget commission and decreases amounting to more than $2,000,000 recommended by the state examining commission were disregarded by the committee in reaching its conclusions.

After debating for more than two hours at the afternoon session the house passed the fertilizer bill offered by the committee as a substitute for house bill 199 by a vote of 125 to 6. Two amendments of minor importance were tacked on to the bill before its final passage. The house adjourned under a resolution calling for a session Saturday.

In the main the measure provides for definite labeling of fertilizers as to the ingredients used; provides for the inspection of fertilizer and for using foreign substances such as sand and cinders in fertilizer, provides for a system of inspection under the supervision of the commissioner of agriculture and for the collection of fees for registration of various fertilizer brands.

SNOOK COMPLETES ORDEAL ON STAND IN MURDER TRIAL

Columbus, Ohio, August 9.—(AP)—Four medical experts were introduced by attorneys for Dr. James H. Snook in his first degree murder trial today to discredit the charge that he premeditated the killing of his co-defendant, Theora X. Hix.

When Dr. Snook had brought to a close three consecutive days of testimony, in which he denied any remembrance of slaying the girl's throat after beating her with a hammer on the night she was killed last June 13, the expert witnesses were called to the stand.

Each of them testified as to a description of the hammer wounds on the girl's head and the knife wound on her throat. They said they could not tell which of the wounds had caused her death. Their opinions were an attack on the allegation that Dr. Snook deliberately severed the jugular vein of his young paramour to put her out of misery. The witnesses were Doctors Jonathan Ferencak, I. B. Harris, L. H. Van Buskirk and Eugene McCampbell, all Columbus pathologists.

Doesn't Remember.

Dr. Snook was excused from the witness stand, somewhat tired from his fight against the questions of Prosecutor John J. Chester, Jr.

Dr. Snook repudiated nearly every detail of a confession obtained from him one week after the girl's mutilated body was found on the New York Central rifle range, and addressed persistently to the story he told yesterday when he said his mind went blank after he had struck Miss Hix four times with a hammer.

To each resounding question of the youthful prosecutor and Chester's allusion to the conflict between his testimony and the results of his signed confession, Dr. Snook answered with an emphatic denial or an "I don't remember."

He handed Dr. Snook the blood-stained hammer that was used in the killing and told him to demonstrate on the arm of the witness chair the light of the first blow he said he inflicted by loosening the girl's grip on him as they sat in his automobile on the darkened range. The defendant toyed with the murder weapon and answered that the blow was so light he could not demonstrate it.

Demotes Blows.

"Then indicate the force of the next two blows," instructed the prosecutor, referring to the doctor's testimony that the blow was so light as she was getting out of the machine, supposedly with the intention of shooting him. The witness made a light tap with the hammer.

At Chester's command he stood up before the jury and illustrated the "hard blow" that landed on the girl's head behind the ear, and she struggled outside the car. This was the wound which the defense claims caused the co-defendant's death, and not the throat slaying, of which Dr. Snook swore that the blow was so light he could not demonstrate it.

Blow That Knocked Her Flat.

Consideration of the Taylor substitute for the Neill highway mileage bill, passed last week in the house, was postponed until Wednesday so that printed copies of the measure could be distributed for study by the senators. In a short speech President Neill offered an amendment which includes some of the major provisions of his original bill.

He stated that if the amendment is adopted the Taylor bill would then be satisfactory to its supporters in both houses.

After lengthy discussion, the senate killed the Goode bill designed to create a department of law in the state capitol. Provisions of the measure would have abolished special counsel employed by the numerous departments of the state government and required all state problems be handled through the office of the attorney-general, who would have had the power to appoint assistants.

Extra Session Looms.

"We are riding toward an extra session," he declared, "unless we work every available minute. The general appropriations bill has not been read even the second time, but I understand it will be ready for second reading Saturday if we hold a meeting."

I hope the personal desires of a few members who want to go home will not jeopardize the work of this day from now on.

At the conclusion of Russell's speech a vote was called for again, and the resolution adopted unanimously.

The measure amending the tobacco tax law was a committee substitute for a bill offered originally by Representative Culpepper, Fayette, and Come, Bullock. Its principal provisions are compulsory registration of all cigar and cigarette dealers and inspection of their places of business by agents of the state department of revenue. Culpepper explained that the bill was designed to reach dealers

Three Gunmen Terrorize Illinois Central Passengers, Slay Official and Get $3,000.

Chicago, August 9.—(AP)—A collector was killed, passengers were terrorized and $3,000 was stolen tonight by three gunmen who boarded an Illinois Central suburban train at the Randolph street terminal and fled after forcing the motorman to stop at 23rd street.

Delbert Suda, 53, the victim, had been making collections from local station agents along the railroad's suburban electric line, which runs from the downtown district, along the lake shore, to the southern suburbs. He had made a northbound trip and was on the way back for additional collections.

Just before the train reached 23rd street two of the robbers arose, approached the collector and displayed revolvers. Suda made a move to reach for his gun and was shot through the right eye, dying instantly. The robbers seized the money and fled.

Teeth, Knuckles, Pistols Leave Six Hurt in Brawl To Extend Realm OF POLES' POWER

ATHENS, Ga., August 9.—(AP)—The jangling of a telephone tonight was credited with the woes of six persons, shot, bitten and otherwise injured in today's Dudley-Beard vendetta.

The trouble started when an anonymous voice over the wire informed J. B. Dudley that his wife "was running around with another man." Dudley suspected the voice belonged to Mrs. Grady Beard, and today members of both families met in the Clark county courthouse to arbitrate.

The parley was not a peaceful one. Mrs. Dudley drew a pistol and shot Beard in the abdomen. Beard retaliated by blacking Dudley's eye with his fist.

Mrs. Beard then entered the fray by taking a generous bite in Mrs. Dudley's arm. Dudley returned the compliment. Beard's son, Tallman, went to his father's aid and was generally bruised.

Earl James, an employee in the courthouse, attempted to wrest the pistol from Mrs. Dudley and received a bullet in the leg.

Courthouse officials called ambulances for Beard, the two women and James, and on the way to the hospital two motorcycle officers leading the procession collided and joined the casualties inside the ambulances.

All six were reported progressing favorably.

Bill Makes Legal SENATE SLASHES SIX-CENT GAS TAX TARIFF INCREASE

Washington, August 9.—(AP)—Further slashes in the duties proposed in the house tariff bill were approved by the senate finance committee today, the most important of which would restore the levy on raw wool to the existing rate of 31 cents a pound. The bill increased this 34 cents.

The tariff revisers also virtually completed work on the rates proposed in the bill on manufactured wool of all kinds, but if any changes were voted upon they were not announced.

The measure as it passed the house provided higher duties all along the line on processed wool to compensate for the higher raw wool rate.

Cuts Wool Impost and Leaves Cotton on Free List—Harris Attacks Sugar Scale.

It was disclosed in other quarters that the committee had before it for discussion a proposed scale tariff evolved by Henry Scheel, vice president of the Botany Worsted Mills, of Passaic, N. J., which would have the rates on differences in cost of labor in converting raw woolen materials. The duty would be high as foreign wages were low.

Senators Bingham, of Connecticut, and Sackett, of Kentucky, republican members of the woolen subcommittee, were understood to be giving serious consideration to the proposal, which is considered unique in tariff making. Scheel was a member of the Hoover Robinson committee for the elimination of waste in industry and presented his plan to the full committee recently at public hearings.

Both the Smoot sugar scale proposal and the house sugar rate came under fire during the day. David J. Lewis, former member of the tariff commission, in a statement issued through the democratic national committee said the Smoot plan applied today would cost the American people $248,000,000 a year in excessive prices as against $250,000,000 under the existing tariff.

Senator Harris, democrat, Georgia, declared he would defend the "exorbitant duty" proposed by the house. He said that the beet sugar producers not only wanted the higher duty but were demanding that the immigration duty be kept wide open to permit entry of "thousands of cheap Mexican laborers" for work on the beet farms.

"It is far more important to protect the millions of American laborers and consumers than a few beet sugar producers," he added.

CONSIDERATION DATE SET FOR SEPTEMBER 4.

Washington, August 9.—(AP)—Senator Watson, of Indiana, republican leader, announced tonight that after the senate reconvenes August 19 it will take three-day recesses until September 4 instead of September 3 as previously decided.

The senator said the change was made at the suggestion of Senator Robinson of Arkansas, the democratic leader, who in telegraphing his acceptance of the recesses until the tariff bill is ready for consideration, called attention to the fact that the first set is the day after Labor Day.

Warsaw Denies Intention To Disturb Autonomus Rule of Kovno Under Russ Mandate.

Berlin, August 9.—(United News).—Diplomatic circles were disturbed tonight by reports from Warsaw and Vilna alleging that Polish military quarters intend to exploit the present tense situation between soviet Russia and China.

The reports asserted that the military quarters intend to take advantage of Russia's preoccupation with the Manchurian situation to engineer a coup d'etat at Kovno and establish a pro-Polish government in the Lithuanian capital.

Considerable military activity was reported on the Polish-Lithuanian frontier but Warsaw has vigorously denied in recent weeks any move to influence or injure the Lithuanian government.

JAPANESE ENVOY HOPES FOR PEACE.

The Hague, August 9.—(United News).—Ambassador Adachi, of Japan, who is a delegate to the international conference here, said today that he is "certain China will be able to find a solution in the present dispute with soviet Russia. He said that negotiations were now proceeding 'to reach a satisfactory solution in a few days.'"

BERGER'S BODY, LYING IN STATE, VISITED BY MANY

Milwaukee, Wis., August 9.—(AP)—From noon today until 2 o'clock Saturday afternoon the body of Victor L. Berger, former socialist leader, will lie in state in the vaulted rotunda of Milwaukee's city hall tower, scene of so many of his party's victories. A cordon of police will maintain a guard of honor beside the bier throughout the day and night, while other officers will direct the throngs of mourners as they pass through the black-draped halls.

TWO-YEAR-OLD BOY IS BADLY INJURED BY MOTOR TRUCK

Leon Ford, 2, of the American Rescue Workers' Home, 420 Piedmont avenue, was near death at Grady hospital late Friday night with a skull fracture received when he was struck down in the morning near the home by a motor truck operated by L. B. Stewart, negro, of 400 Martin street.

According to police records, the child had walked from the home unnoticed by Mrs. J. A. Lee, the matron, and apparently was going to a playground at Piedmont avenue and Currier street. It is believed that the lad started from behind a parked car into the path of the negro's truck. Stewart was arrested by Motorcycle Officer Herman Clay and Friday night was being held in default of $2,000 bond pending his hearing, set for August 14 before Recorder A. W. Callaway.

RICH WITH MILK AND EGGS AND BUTTER

Just Taste it and Stop CAKE Drudgery!

Just as you would make cake—with milk and eggs and butter—and infinite pains.

That is just how Merita cake is made.

And that is just why Merita cake is so delightfully good.

Notice the beautifully fine grain. Taste its rich, creamy flavor.

No. 9—How science guards MERITA goodness

Chemical balances that will weigh an eyelash or a pencil mark help in testing Merita ingredients.

Flour, butter, milk, eggs, every article that goes into Merita products is analyzed with scientific exactness.

Before it is used it must meet our requirements. Those requirements, established by laboratory research, are very high and very rigid.

ATLANTAN INJURED IN FLORIDA CRASHES

Three Others Hurt in Wreck.
 Doctor Injured on Way for Operation.

Fort Lauderdale, Fla., August 9.—

(AP)—A series of motor car accidents on the Dixie highway between Hallandale, Hollywood and Fort Lauderdale late last night wrecked three automobiles, put four men in a local hospital and made a patient of a doctor who was en route to the hospital to perform a major operation.

The injured men are Richard Johnston, West Palm Beach; Fred Roul, Atlanta, whose condition is serious; George Baywood, Miami, and Dr. H. A. Walker, Hollywood.

Johnston, Roul and Baywood were en route from Miami to West Palm Beach when Johnston, who was driving, was blinded by lights of a south-bound automobile near Hallandale and collided with a negro's automobile parked on the roadside without lights. An ambulance brought them to Dr. Walker's place in Hollywood. The physician was in his machine, ready to start for the Fort Lauderdale hospital to operate on Arthur Hoke, a patient, and directed the ambulance to follow him.

LOUW IS APPOINTED
SO. AFRICAN ENVOY
TO UNITED STATES

Cape Town, Union of South Africa, August 9.—(AP)—Eric Louw, South African high commissioner in London, was today appointed minister plenipotentiary and envoy extraordinary to Washington. The appointment was made in conformity with the new policy of Premier Hertzog's party, which desired separate diplomatic representatives for the union in certain important capitals.

MARSH IS HANGED
IN MARYLAND PRISON

Baltimore, Md., August 9.—(AP)—John Orestes Marsh was hanged in the state penitentiary here early this morning for the murder of his 22-year-old wife.

The trap of the prison gallows was sprung at 12:05 a. m. and the man pronounced dead at 12:18, as a score of witnesses looked on.

Man Who Is Nabbed Admits Participation
In Jersey Bank Robbery

Camden, N. J., August 9.—(AP)—Robert Tully, 30, of Audubon, was arrested in a Camden rooming house early today, and admitted he participated in the holdup at Bradley Beach.

N. J., which resulted in the murder of a seventy-six-year-old bank messenger. Tully declared he did not know a murder had been committed, and said he was "double-crossed" by his three companions, who he accused of "running away" with the spoils while he was in search of more gin for a party they were having in an Asbury Park hotel.

ILLINOIS POLICE CHIEF SLAIN BY COP

County Traffic Officers Shoot Chicago Suburb Official.

Chicago, August 9.—(AP)—Chief of Police Theodore Schutte, 45, of Elmwood Park, Ill., a suburb, was shot and killed early today by county highway police who had been summoned to suppress a disturbance in a roadhouse across the street from their station. Schutte, police reported, was drunk and threatening highway policemen when they entered the place.

Eight policemen from the Morton Grove station answered the riot call from the Sans Souci roadhouse across the street. They found a score of men and women guests huddled in one end of the dining room.

A second after they entered Schutte, carrying a pistol in his hand, stepped from a side room. He raised the weapon toward the highway policemen but a volley of shots felled him before he could fire.

William Lesca, owner of the roadhouse, told police that Schutte frequently had come to the place drunk and created disturbances. This morning, he declared, Schutte had fired a bullet into the floor after herding the patrons to one end of the room.

STOCK ISSUES VALUES LOSE TWO MILLIONS

Large corporations, wealthy individuals and foreign banks are classified. Rumors of a higher discount rate were freely circulated this spring but as week after week passed and no action was taken, with heavy gold imports in the interval, Wall Street apparently recovered from its scare of a higher rate, which Governor Young of the federal reserve board said would only be used "as a last resort" in checking the flow of credit to speculative channels. Meanwhile, England began to lose gold and the feeling grew that, because of the close relations between the federal reserve and Bank of England authorities, any change in rate here would be preceded by a higher London rate.

Wall Street, therefore, was taken completely by surprise when the news tickers carried the announcement of an increase late Thursday afternoon. Stock exchange partners and floor traders were hurriedly recalled from vacations and cleared orders to appear an hour earlier than usual to take care of the expected rush of business.

While most bankers declined to be quoted on the significance and effect of a higher rate, none of those seen today appeared to be alarmed at the situation. They pointed out that the discount rate merely was being brought in line with open market rates and that the decision of the federal reserve authorities to reduce the buying rate on bankers' acceptances indicated a desire to ease the general credit situation and facilitate the normal fall expansion in business and the movement in crops.

CAPITAL LOOKS ON AS STOCKS TUMBLE.

Washington, August 9.—(AP)—Official Washington looked on with mounting interest but in complete silence today as yesterday's increase in the New York federal reserve discount rate produced its series of repercussions in the security markets of the world.

The absence of official interpretation of the rate increase was in accordance with the tradition of the federal reserve board not to comment during periods of financial transition.

STATE FINANCE SHEET SHOWS FEW CHANGES

Amount Dwindles. "When this law was passed in 1923," he asserted, "it brought in between $500,000 and $1,000,000 a year, but that amount has dwindled steadily until it totaled only $750,000 in 1928. This is not sufficient to pay Confederate pensions, for which the tax is levied, and we have been obliged to make special appropriations to meet the pension roll. The inference is that many cigar and cigarette dealers have been 'bootlegging' and not paying the tax. If this law is properly enforced it should give us $2,000,000 a year."

Another substitute plan, submitted by Representative Beasley, Tattall, and others, sought to eliminate the stamp tax on cigars and cigarettes and impose instead an annual license tax of $35 on cigar dealers and $25 on cigarette dealers. This proposal met with considerable favor and was opposed by sponsors of the committee bill principally on grounds that it would not produce as much revenue as the stamp tax. The Beasley plan was never put to a vote, however, as the ballot on the Culpepper measure showed 148 to 7 for its passage.

SHARP BREAKS IN CHICAGO MARKET.

Chicago, August 9.—(AP)—Influenced by the reaction of the New York Stock Exchange to the unexpected increase in the federal reserve discount rate, issues on the Chicago exchange opened today with sharp price breaks. The more volatile issues steadied some before the close and a few rallied above their initial trades. Public Service opened 47 points off at 333 and closed at 332. Other utilities generally were hit hard by the rush of selling orders, with the exception of Electric Household which finished a point above yesterday's close at 73. Insull Utilities Investment common broke 4 points to open at 40 and closed at 39.12, as compared to a high of 149 1/4, reached a few days ago.

Middle West Utilities, which last week was quoted at 499, opened at 339, 11 points under yesterday's close, and finished the day at 379. Utilities and Industrial Corporation fell off 5 to close at 37.34. Commonwealth Edison dropped 5 to close at 351, Central and Southwest lost 4 and closed at 108.

M. Briand said the Locarno agreement provided that any question about verification of armaments in the Rhineland or any dispute connected with it should be referred to the League of Nations. But he thought that bringing such a matter before the league would give it too much publicity and might do more harm than good. A simple commission could deal with it more readily.

Former Chancellor Wirth, of Germany, replied that Germany did not understand why, with the Locarno pact as a guide and the league council as a court, it should be necessary to resort to a special commission.

He declared that if the German delegation accepted the establishment of such a commission, the German government would fall when they went home. The work of conciliation the government had done would have to be done all over again.

The German statesman asked Premier Briand to reconsider the whole question in the light of the new situation that had been brought about by making effective the Kellogg renunciation of war pact. On the proposal of the French premier a subcommittee of jurists was then formed to study the advisability of a control commission. The subcommittee will report on Tuesday, after which discussion will be resumed in the political committee itself.

BRITISH DUCHESS BACK IN ENGLAND ON PLANE FLIGHT

London, August 9.—(AP)—The Duchess of Bedford, English noblewoman and aviation enthusiast, arrived at Croydon today, completing a round-trip flight to India within a week and establishing a new record for that journey.

The duchess took off from Lympne on August 2 in a monoplane piloted by Captain T. D. Barnard with Bob Little acting as engineer and second pilot, the plane arrived at Karachi, India, on August 5 and left early on the morning of August 6.

SEVERANCE TAX LAW OF LA. IS UPHELD

New Orleans, August 9.—(AP)—The constitutionality of the state severance law was upheld today by three federal judges, Rufus E. Carter, of the United States circuit court of appeals; Wayne G. Borah, of the United States circuit court of the eastern district; and Judge Ben C. Dawkins, of the federal district court of the western district.

In holding the law constitutional, the judges issued an order dismissing the injunction sought by the Ohio Oil Company on grounds that the severance act was "unconstitutional, unreasonable and discriminatory."

"Undoubtedly a state has the right to impose specific taxes as well as ad valorem taxes unless prohibited by the state constitution. The constitution of Louisiana expressly authorizes the levying of specific taxes on oil severed from the oil," the judges' decision said.

CRISIS IMPENDS AT REPARATIONS MEET

United States is desirous of seeing some final settlement of the reparations question evolved by the powers. The American government, however, does not necessarily support the Young plan, he added, or any other form of settlement in preference to another. He emphasized that the attitude of the United States is one of complete indifference to the method of settlement of the problem since the American government has completely dissociated itself from the whole question.

Premier Briand in the committee this afternoon declared France was ready to do all she could to remove misunderstandings and arrive at an agreement. He thought there had been a good deal of misconception in Germany about the idea of the commission.

M. Briand said the Locarno agreement provided that any question about verification of armaments in the Rhineland or any dispute connected with it should be referred to the League of Nations. But he thought that bringing such a matter before the league would give it too much publicity and might do more harm than good. A simple commission could deal with it more readily.

Former Chancellor Wirth, of Germany, replied that Germany did not understand why, with the Locarno pact as a guide and the league council as a court, it should be necessary to resort to a special commission.

He declared that if the German delegation accepted the establishment of such a commission, the German government would fall when they went home. The work of conciliation the government had done would have to be done all over again.

The German statesman asked Premier Briand to reconsider the whole question in the light of the new situation that had been brought about by making effective the Kellogg renunciation of war pact. On the proposal of the French premier a subcommittee of jurists was then formed to study the advisability of a control commission. The subcommittee will report on Tuesday, after which discussion will be resumed in the political committee itself.

CHINESE FIRE ON RUSS PLANES.

Berlin, August 9.—(AP)—A Telegraph Union dispatch from Peking says that two Russian airplanes flew over the Chinese border this morning and contrary to Peking's orders, were fired upon by Chinese border patrols. One plane made a forced landing on the Russian side of the border.

The planes were stated to have been over Chinese territory about an hour and a half.

NEWSPAPERS CARRY ALARMIST REPORTS.

Tokyo, August 9.—(AP)—Newspapers here are publishing alarmist reports from Vladivostok and Manchuria of the danger of war in the event of the breakdown in Russian-Chinese negotiations over the Chinese Eastern railway.

The reports largely are discredited, although soviet officials on the railway are not reinstated. Chinese representatives have attempted to arrange long-distance telephones for carrying on negotiations but this has proved unsuccessful.

The Japanese foreign office believes resort to arms unlikely but that attempts to arrange formal negotiations will continue unsuccessful for some time.

Advises to Reno News Agency from Manchuria, Manchuria, said the sound of heavy bombardment from the direction of Matsievskaya had been heard since 7 a. m. today. The inhabitants were much alarmed. It was believed here, however, to be no more than a soviet demonstration.

BILL MAKES LEGAL SIX-CENT GAS TAX

Senate refused to agree with the report of the committee which was favorable to the passage of the bill. Guard Bill Voted.

An amendment to the constitution was unanimously passed regulating the co-operation of county and other local school systems. Senator Pitzer was the author of the bill and brought it up for consideration after a previous action had deferred it until next Wednesday.

Senator Matthews' bill to prevent officials of the National Guard being placed on the unassigned list without their own consent except in cases of court martial was passed without opposition on the floor. Another bill by the same author to provide for election of the state adjutant general by officers of the National Guard ran into spirited debate and was finally defeated.

Senator Matthews declared that his bill was an attempt to remove politics from the National Guard. Opponents of the bill believed that it would create factions within the army, and favored the present plan under which the adjutant general is appointed by the governor. A third military reorganization bill was on the senate calendar but was not reached at the opening of the session.

At the opening of the session the house passed a motion to reconsider the Lane bill, regulating the distribution of hog cholera virus, which was defeated several days ago. No action on the measure was taken.

No Saturday Session. During the session the upper house confined itself to minor bills, mostly of local application. Following a heated debate, during which Shelby Myrick, vice chairman of the rules committee, urged the senate to consider the clogged calendar before it, the body adjourned until Monday morning. The Saturday session failed by a vote of 17-15.

A committee substitute bill for Senator Rawls' pharmacy bill was passed during the afternoon. It requires applicants for pharmacy licenses to be graduates of accredited schools and to pay yearly fees of one dollar. The measure will go into effect on June 1, 1933, if passed by the house of representatives.

Senator Brewer's bill, changing the name of the South Georgia Junior State college to the South Georgia State college, was passed without opposition, as was a constitutional amendment transferred from the house giving Richmond county authority to raise the salaries of court judges.

None of the important tax legislation before the senate came up Friday and indications are that the rules committee will not state either the income tax or the gas tax measure on the calendar before Tuesday.

Although the Chinese request for American renunciation of extra-territorial privileges was addressed to the state department through the Chinese legation here, the reply has been forwarded to American Minister J. V. A. MacMurray at Peking, with instructions to transmit to the Chinese foreign minister at Nanjing.

The state department late today had not been advised as to whether it had been delivered.

Minister Wu was advised of the nature of the United States' reply but the official state department announcement that a reply had been dispatched stated that the substance of the American note would be made public at Nanjing.

Successive Chinese governments for several years have attempted frequently to induce the powers to relinquish extra-territoriality and other rights based on what are called "unequal" treaties.

REFUSE TO JOIN UNION, ACTORS ARE BEATEN

Pair Attacked by Six Men
After Refusing To Enter Equity Association.

Los Angeles, August 9.—(AP)—Frank Goddard, actor and boxer, was attacked and seriously injured and his companion, Harry Deck, actor, was badly beaten near the entrance of a motion picture studio yesterday, it was learned today. The men charged that they had been attacked after refusing to join the Actors' Equity Association.

Goddard was taken to a hospital, where he underwent an emergency operation in what authorities said was an attempt to save his life. Police said he had been kicked in the stomach. Deck said Goddard had come to his assistance after six men had attacked him. He declared the assault followed his and Goddard's refusal to listen to demands that they join Equity.

Lieutenant William Haynes, of the police intelligence bureau, reported that he had the names and addresses of the men suspected of making the attack.

Is Second Case.
This was the second case of violence that has been attributed to the differences between actors, union officials and film producers over Equity's attempt to establish closed shops in the motion picture industry.

Several weeks ago a group of service men employed at a studio dragged two of three persons, accused of being Equity sympathizers, from an automobile and destroyed several hundred feet of film found in their possession after the trio had hissed, booed and photographed them as they were leaving the movie lot.

Terminate Meetings.
Disclosure was made last night that committees of the Association of Motion Picture Producers, Inc., and of Equity had terminated their series of meetings held in an effort to reach a compromise over the demand of union officials that only members of Equity be employed in motion picture productions.

No statement was made concerning the progress of the sessions, but it was understood that Equity members would join in a closed meeting at Hollywood tomorrow night, at which time arbitration proposals of the producers were expected to be considered.

Observers of the two-month fight between Equity and the producers were of divided opinion as to whether there would be an early settlement of the difficulties. Some took the attitude that the Equity meeting tomorrow would ring down the curtain on the trouble, while others insisted that the lack of a statement after the last conference of the committees Wednesday indicated no settlement had been reached.

PLANE BURSTS INTO FLAMES; THREE KILLED

Casper, Wyo., August 9.—(AP)—An airplane burst into flames and fell several hundred feet here last night, killing the pilot and two passengers. The victims were Major D. P. Wardwell, 32, of Casper; Earl Holtz, 30, and George Cameron, of Worland, Wyoming.

Wardwell, a member of the Lafayette Escadrille in the World War and later with the United States air forces abroad, was the pilot of the plane. He had been engaged by the two for a flight over the city.

D. C. Miller, who saw the ship fall, said it had been in the air a half hour when the accident occurred.

Wardwell came here with the United States geological survey and while in that service organized the Wyoming Airways, Inc., of which he was manager. He is survived by his widow and four children.

RADIO OPERATOR SETS SELF A TEST
Philadelphia, August 9.—Albert L. Byler, radio operator atop the Reading railway station here, has begun an endurance test all his own. He proposes to sit by his receiving set constantly while the Graf Zeppelin is making her round-the-world flight and declared he would stick it out the three weeks or more.

Appropriation for Renovating Capitol Favored by Legislators

BY PAUL STEVENSON.

After spending nearly two months in the state capitol of Georgia and thus becoming familiar with the dilapidated condition of that building, many legislative leaders are interested in the passage of a bill providing for the appropriation of $250,000 for a complete renovation of the structure, inside and outside.

The renovation bill now is before the appropriations committee and strong efforts will be made to have that committee act on it favorably within a few days.

It is certain that the capitol will fall into a condition of decay in a few years which would depreciate the value of the building to a large amount and jeopardize the lives of the people of the state who are forced to walk through its corridors.

Plastering falls in huge chunks every now and then and the situation has become so dangerous that large planks are thrown across stairways to protect people from the falling debris. The walls of the building are scarred and stained. The paint has peeled off in myriads of spots, while the condition of the woodwork is exceedingly bad.

The present custodian and his assistants have done everything possible to keep the building in presentable shape but unless an appropriation is made there is no way on earth that the building can be kept in any kind of repair.

Ernest Camp, editor of the Walton Tribune and former president of the Georgia State Press Association, was a visitor at the Friday session of the legislature. He sat with the newspaper men at the press table in the house and watched with interest the proceedings of that body.

Representatives Mardre, of Thomas, and McWhorter, of Oglethorpe, introduced a bill in the house Friday which authorizes the state board of education to permit the use of a certain number of pages in textbooks for advertising purposes. The bill gives the board authority to contract with persons, firms or corporations for such advertising and the firms printing the advertising matter are to furnish the textbooks free to the pupils in the schools. The act does not affect the adoption of any textbooks. It gives the state board of education authority to censor all advertising matter carried in the pages of the school books.

Efforts will be made in the next few days to obtain final passage in the house of a senate resolution which provides for the acceptance of the magnificent A. G. Rhodes home on the part of the state of Georgia. The home, valued at $300,000, has been tendered the state as a gift by the Rhodes estate with the stipulation that it be used as a permanent home for the state department of archives and history. The measure was introduced in the senate by Senator Whaley, of the thirty-fifth district.

and passed that body without a dissenting vote.

From far distant South Africa an application for an automobile license tag was received Friday by George Carswell, secretary of state. The application was sent by the firm of LaSalle & Mack and was turned over to Dr. Royall J. Miller, head of the mail order license tag division. A tag was mailed to the applicant at Bloemfontein, South Africa. A money order drawn on the postoffice at Johannesburg for one pound, fourteen shillings and four pence was received by Dr. Miller, who translated this into American money as being $8.31, the price of a license tag for the automobile of that class for the remainder of the year.

The senate held its first afternoon meeting of the present session Friday and the attendance was none too large. For a time it appeared that there be no "quorum," as some call it, present, but later a few senators drifted in from the cafes and the session got under way. The house has been holding afternoon sessions for two weeks.

AMERICAN RESCUE WORKERS' BOARD TO MEET MONDAY

A board meeting of the American Rescue Workers will be held Monday night at 420 Piedmont avenue, it has been announced by the Rev. Russell K. Smith, chairman. Replies to letters sent out indicate a large attendance, he stated, many prominent Atlantians who are not members having signified their intentions to be present.

The home of the organization is maintained at all times and is usually full to capacity. In addition to providing lodging, the association also acts as a clearing house for the disposition of used garments of all kinds, and it has been requested that anyone wishing to dispose of such articles telephone Walnut 9783.

LUMPKIN LAW SCHOOL.

The bill in the general assembly to establish the Lumpkin law school as a branch of the University of Georgia, and provide a separate board of trustees for it, is all out of line with the wisdom of educational philosophy and practice.
Concentration of authority, administration and responsibility is the real spirit of modernism in all lines of large endeavor, and especially so in the fields of education.

The Lumpkin law school is already one of the constituent schools of the university and has been kept alive as such by the most devoted labors of the university trustees, faculty and alumni. Only recently it has been carefully reorganized to put it upon the basis of an A-grade school in the Association of American Law Schools. And the alumni have undertaken to provide it with its own building at a cost of $100,- 000, contributed by themselves and given to the state in fee simple.

The bill above mentioned, should it unfortunately be enacted, would do great harm and no perceptible good.

It will set up another segregated school and another extra board of trustees, when what is needed is a more consolidated university system, with a single competent board of trustees for all its colleges, or a plenary governing board of regents for the whole system.

It will set up a method of organization and faculty selections which will bar it permanently from Grade
A status in the Association of American Law Schools.

It will prohibit the employment of the best available talent for officing the school and providing the most competent faculty; and will prevent entirely the promotion in the faculty of sub-professors who work up into conspicuous abilities.

It will degrade the school, deprive it of distinction, hamper it with a limited range of faculty elections, and put away from it the building proposed for its home by an affectionate alumni. In that one item the bill would throw away a gift of $100,000 from the state's assets in university equipment.

Those constitute a large price to pay for an experiment in amateur school organization.

We repeat emphatically that the bill is one that is against all the best interests of legal education in Georgia and should receive no approval or support in a general assembly of progressive Georgians.

MR. ROBINSON'S PROMOTION.

The Fourth National Bank of Atlanta is to be congratulated upon the recent action of its board of directors in elevating to the first vice presidency of that institution one of its officials who has already done much in contributing to its merited popularity—J. D. Robinson.
Old-timers in Georgia recall with gratification the early days of his career, when Jim Robinson carried his own simple grip throughout the state, spreading the gospel of good fellowship, circulating in his inimitable way, the latest stories from the travelling men's repertoire, and always bringing back abundant orders.

Later on he was promoted to the presidency of the A. M. Robinson Company, one of the leading commercial institutions of the south, where his personality, diligence and judgment were reflected by the remarkable progress attained by the company under his management.

His long connection with the Fourth National Bank, although incidental and subordinate to his commercial enterprise, has familiarized him with the details of the banking business, and his merited promotion has been the subject of hearty congratulations from all sections of the south.

Few men possess in an equal degree the charming qualities of mind and manner which characterize the personality of Jim Robinson, by which name he is affectionately known throughout the state, and all who know him will heartily join The Constitution in extending felicitations to him, as well as the Fourth National, upon his addition to the active management of the affairs of that popular institution.

THE CASE OF MR. CANNON.

One James Cannon, Jr., of Virginia, who has assumed the Jekyl and Hyde roles of church bishop and political boss, is now as busy as a bob-tailed yearling in fly-ting fighting off the attacks of those who hold to the ethical theorem the offices of bishop and boss are abominably incompatible.

If the great church system of which Mr. Cannon is a personal ingredient is really going to turn itself into a political machine, then, of course, the epithets of "bishop" and "boss" will become indistinguishable and Mr. Cannon will be perfectly within his rights when he administers the holy sacrament with his right hand and political knockouts with his left fist.

But we doubt most seriously that the historic church of which he is a prelate means to become a political electioneering organization.
There are those prominent in it who already deplore the losses to it from the unrestrained political activities of some of its bishops and many of its preachers. The spiritual attachments of thousands upon thousands of members have been loosened by political propaganda from the pulpits; contributions have been withheld, causing suffering to missions, colleges and orphans; and protest is rising everywhere against the perversion of the church to political purposes.

Mr. Cannon may explain his political trades with the republicans and his stock margin trades with a New York hum-bucket-shop to his own satisfaction, but the country at large will not accept those explanations at its valuation. The action open to him which the people generally will approve without further debate is his utter reversion to his episcopal office, or his resignation of it, that he may employ all his time and talents in his political adventures. One or the other course would be that of a straight-up, forthright man.

The plea of Mr. Cannon that all the criticism launched upon him is because of his work for prohibition is childish and ridiculous. Some of the hottest of those criticisms have been made by newspapers, public men and preachers of his own church, who have been and are yet as staunch supporters of prohibition as he has ever been.
The plea is too thin to hold even prohibition water.

The plain truth, which Mr. Cannon's plight so vividly illustrates, is that the churches injure themselves deeply and mortally when they forsake the Gospel to preach and promote the causes of political parties. All good men and women must deplore such a perversion, and, if it is much more persisted in, it will have a calamitous effect upon the religious ideals of present and future generations.

NO DEMOCRAT NEED APPLY.

Congressman Louis Ludlow, democrat, of Indiana, is making an issue with the Director of the Census over the expressed intention of census supervisors to bar disabled democratic veterans from their legal equal preference in the selection of census-takers throughout the country.

The Indiana congressman has been flatly told that a veteran whom he recommended had "no chance because he is a democrat."

If such a practice is to prevail in the selection of census enumerators it will border upon the infamous. Census taking is not a partisan proceeding. It is a constitutional duty imposed upon the government for informative and administrative purposes. Much legislation is based upon the census figures. The apportionment of representation of the people in the house of congress is based upon the census returns from the states.

To taint the census with rank partisanship is to poison one of the fountain heads of just constitutional government and the president could not more signally exemplify his chief magistracy of the whole people than by ordering the prompt and absolute cessation of partisan discrimination in organizing the census-taking force of the nation.

With no southern man appointed to an important federal job, it is becoming more and more a problem to keep the Hoovercrats in line.
We always held they were plum crazy.

Those Chinese are taking such an arrogant stand against the Reds that we believe they were once engaged in the laundry business in the United States.

Famous last words in Europe: "I am leaving by plane for the United States."

In the matter of legislatures the first fifty-nine days are always the hardest.

THE WORLD'S WINDOW

BY PIERRE VAN PAASSEN.

The Day.

Red newspapers in Germany have recently been talking about the demonstrations which they would like to see on the fifteenth anniversary of the outbreak of the war. The communists claim that they have 50,000 men ready in Berlin to "jump to arms," and if the rising cannot take place on August 1, they will make a second attempt on September 1. Both the Kote Fahne and the Welt Am Abend are outspoken in their assertions that blood and power of it will flow one of these days. The Berliner Tagblatt p-o-o-p-oo-s the idea. "All that talk about 50,000 men ready to jump to arms is based on imagination," says the paper. "The German reads know how to make a nuisance of themselves now and then, but they don't know very much about the war."
adds the Vorwaerts. "Will the slaves be taken in the meantime precautions are being taken by the police and the same thing is taking place in Paris.
Aliens not in the possession of pas-ports are nightly arrested and put across the frontier with their moreado. Each night a section of Paris is being combed out by special squads.
Traffic is halted, and everybody is stopped in the streets, while policemen invade the little hotels and wake up everybody to show their papers. Of course, nothing like that occurs on the grand boulevards, and tourists need be under no apprehension that they will be molested.

Kruiger Anniversary.

It's 25 years ago that Paul Kruiger, president of the Transvaal republic died in exile in Switzerland.
They are commemorating him in South Africa. Speeches will be given around his statue in Pretoria. His life was a heroic one. He was a man of great courage and vision.
When the South African nation shall be great and strong, some Homer will arise and find in Kruiger's life the material for a stirring poem. For a long time he and his dour Boers withstood the power of Britain, but there was no holding back the legions of Albion when gold was discovered in the Witwatersrand. Then came the war, which English liberals considered a blot upon John Bull's escutcheon.
Civilization asserted its right to burning farm houses and "murder-camps." All Europe sympathized with the Boers. But no one dared to come to the aid of the small people, whose freedom and independence was ruthlessly annihilated.

The Boers surrendered in the end,
but not before they had fought heroically and "without violating one single law of humanity," as Sir Arthur Conan Doyle, the historian of that war wrote. And now 25 years after Kruiger's death, peace and prosperity reign, and South Africa is nearer independence than ever before.

Sermons To Live By

BY ELAM FRANKLIN DEMPSEY.

Text: "But when thou prayest, enter into thy closet, and when thou hast shut the door, pray to thy Father who is in secret, and thy Father, who seeth in secret, shall reward thee openly." Matthew 6:6.

"Purity, Prayer, Power" is the message for the New Year issued by the Great Commission Prayer League of Chicago for the year 1929.

They say "The great need for this year is a new manifestation of the mighty power of God."

"What is needed today is the saving, keeping, enabling, contracting of the victorious power of the Eternal God manifested anew through His people."

"That a loving Father is willing to give His power to His believing children who delight to do His will none will deny."

"But that most Christians today lack this power is sadly apparent.
What is the reason?"

"One reason for this lack of power can be found, no doubt, in a lack of prayer."

"If we want power, we must be constantly in touch with the source of power."

"It is when God's people recognize their helplessness, and humble themselves, and call upon Him, that He delights to show His power on their behalf."

"We need the pull of prayer upon the power of God as never before in the history of the church."

"But there is also a reason why there is no manifestation of the power of God in answer to our prayers."
"It is a lack of purity in life, in heart, in thought, in motive or in conversation."

"God looks at the heart and demands that our hearts be perfect before Him."
"The eyes of the Lord run to and fro throughout the whole earth, to see Himself strong in behalf of them whose hearts are perfect toward Him!"
II Chron. 16:9.

"Unconfessed sin will hinder our communion with God, prevent His answers to our prayers and rob us of spiritual power."

Let every reader seek thus Purity, Prayer, Power.

The World and All

BY CHARLES E. DRISCOLL.

SEEKING HAPPINESS.

It is interesting to see people seeking happiness. I know dozens of men and women who are constantly on the hunt, like bloodhounds on a cold trail, for happiness. Most of them have never picked up anything resembling the true scent.
Many of them are suffering from the anxiety of the delusion about the possession of happiness—that it is to be had by the possession of much money, much property, or a conspicuous place in the crowd.

This, of course, is basically unsound. Anyone whose philosophy of life is so ill-informed as to admit of such hypothesis, is destined to fail in his search.

You see them, worried, strained, eager, annoyed. Just around the corner, they believe, happiness may be found. Just a little more money.
Another doubling of income. Another car or house or farm or factory, and they will have happiness within their grasp.

Another Letter From a Bald-Headed Dad to a Flapper Daughter

By Robert Quillen.

My Dear Louise:
I've been thinking about a remark you made at dinner yesterday.
I had said something to the effect that every man expects the woman of his choice to be unkind when he gets her, and you replied with some heat that boys shouldn't try to kiss every girl they meet if they expect to marry one that hasn't been kissed.
Doubtless you felt that way about it, but we must take things as we find them. Fair or unfair, boys do try to kiss girls; and fair or unfair, they insist on being first to kiss the girl they love.

What's more, though they flatter and make eager profession of love to win a kiss, their interest in a girl lessens with every kiss they get, just as your appetite lessens as you continue to eat, and when they have kissed her enough, they are through with her.
"It's she's that easy to kiss," says the boy, "other fellows can kiss her, too." And that's the trouble. When a girl has been kissed, the moment he gets it his mind is filled with a suspicion that he isn't the first.

Perhaps you know all this. I once heard you say you had rather have the satisfaction of knowing you hadn't yet been kissed than to have any pleasure kissing could afford. That was a year ago. Whether you still feel that way about it or have changed your philosophy to fit new experience I do not know.

Perhaps I am a queer dad never to have asked you about such things as I see it, my job of helping you to get started on the right foot doesn't include prying into your heart secrets.

I have never asked or expected you to "tell me everything," for I think each individual should have a secret chamber of his soul from which his dearest intimates are excluded.

I can thrust advice upon you, but I can't and won't insist upon your confiding in me.

As to this kissing business, and the "petting" that accompanies it, a warning may be wholly uncalled for; but I want to impress on your mind for future reference the fact that every rose withers when it is plucked and all prizes seem a disappointment when the struggle to win them is finished.

Marriage dulls the edge of romance because it marks the end of a campaign. The chase is over. Nothing remains except a calm and trusting friendship, without alarms or thrills. And just as husbands are less ardent than men who are courting, so the boy who has won a kiss is less interested than the one who pleads for a kiss in vain.

If ever you are tempted to let an awfully nice boy kiss you, remember that a puzzle isn't much fun to anybody after he has worked it one time.

HOLLYWOOD IN PERSON

BY MOLLIE MERRICK

Special Dispatch to The Atlanta Constitution and the North Ameri-

Hollywood, Cal., August 9.—Willie Collier, in Hollywood, is a talker oe luxe. But it was not always so.
That is why the colony is chortling over the revival of a tale anent his beginnings.

It seems that the then young Collier was "walk-on" in a show with George Drew, Georgia's greatest actor.
A likable chap with great ambition and beloved by everyone in the company.

There was a small part of butler for which he was paid about $100 a week. "I carried only one speech," Professor Abalom. "But that had to be said with precise dignity and impressiveness."
Young Collier got the butler's role and was in a haze of delight.

Followed rehearsals—and difficulties. "Professor Abalom" shouted young Collier, determined to make the most of his brief opportunity.
"Rotten" shouted back the stage director, making the most of his opportunity. Dire distress on the part of the youth. George Drew tried to help.

"You must speak the line," said he,
"not shout it. And you must make them realize that it is a professor who is entering the room."

Collier didn't tell Drew that George Drew, in the fullness of his heart, had already told him to stress the word "Abalom," as the room would need to know the name of the man entering. Next rehearsal he squared himself and said "Professor Abalom."

What the Filling Stations Are Coming To If Competition Keeps Up

Health Talks

BY DR. WILLIAM BRADY.

A NEW AILMENT NEARLY AS PREVALENT AS BILLINGS COMPLAINT.

A layman, by jingo, has discovered a new and exceedingly popular ailment and the man is so modest about it that I am going to give his discovery space here, just to establish priority.
In case you do not understand what priority means, I might explain that among us doctors priority is a very important matter. If I look up a new idea, a theory, even a method of treatment or a trick of diagnosis, I let no grass grow under my feet, not nowadays. I sit right down with my typewriter presuming I have one and she's willing, and we pound out a "preliminary report" of the big idea for publication. Once having made the printed page of any recognized medical publication, I have established priority for my idea, and I'd like to see any other doctor come forward at any time thereafter with the same or a similar idea. You know, a considerable portion, I should estimate at least one-half of 1 per cent, of our contemporaneous medical literature is devoted to battles royal between doctors over the right to a new discovery, and men and their friends—that is, on the one hand, you understand, and other doctors and their followers on the other hand—over this vital question of priority. Priority claims, indeed, precipitate some of the most sanguinary battles of medicine. My lay friend may rest assured that his priority is now firmly established. If he wishes, he may even name the new disease after himself. Thus, we might call it B—complex. But let the discoverer tell his own story.

Dear Dr. Brady:
This letter is written to tell you that the writer greatly enjoys your articles. Am sorry I do not have any question to ask as I seem to have nothing wrong with me unless it is too much appetite. I think this is the matter with a good many people. I can always eat twice as much as I do but I don't.

I agree with you absolutely about this. Never let it go out in the cold, get my feet wet, sit in drafts and do all the things that are supposed to bring disaster.
I am a little nervous, overcast. I eat a little of everything I can reach, but only a little.

With sincere appreciation for the pleasure and instruction contained in your articles,
Very truly yours,
I. F. B.

I believe this gentleman is right—not only about the value of my articles, but about the common excess of appetite over metabolic capacity. Eating is such fun, besides, being a noble social accomplishment. And in which a man may live a respectable possible—in fact, I'm going to try to find a remedy for this new disease and publish reports of my studies here with time to time, unless Mr. B— comes before I can complete my researches.

Answer—Thank you. Offhand I reckon that makes it about 40-50 perhaps the customers who do not like the results make a noise like a dozen ordinary folk about it.

FOREST FIRES WIDEN OUT IN NORTHWEST

Efforts of Thousand To Halt
Blazes Meet With Little Success.

Spokane, Wash., August 9.—(AP)—The imprint of the forest fire—smoking stumps, brilliant from charred hillside and valley—continued to widen throughout the northwest today despite the relatively feeble efforts of thousands of men to check the conflagration.

The fires thus far have taken one life and caused damage estimated in the millions of dollars. Frank Frank, of Seattle, was fatally injured while fighting a fire near Channeles Hot Springs, Wash., when he was crushed by a large boulder.

With new fire breaking out sporadically in Montana, Idaho, Washington, Oregon and Manitoba, Canada, murky haze blanketing the entire area made combat work difficult and early discovery of other fires impossible. The fires were burning over widely scattered areas, but the most of them covered less than 1,000 acres each. An accurate count of the blazes was impossible, but in nearly every national forest of the region one or more, and in some cases a dozen, fires were raging.

Situation Better.
The forest service at Missoula, Mont., reported that the situation in that area was greatly improved, but several major blazes were still beyond control. Most of the fires in eastern Washington had been extinguished, but in the western part of the state the Ranier Park fire, covering 500 acres, was out of control. Additional fighters were sent to help the 200 men already on the ground. Nearly a thousand men were fighting 20 other blazes in the state. Eight of these were uncontrolled.

Three old fires jumped out of control in the Selway and Clearwater forests of Idaho and several new ones were discovered. The situation in Oregon, which had been serious for three days, was improved with the Chase mountain fire in Klamath county and several smaller fires under control. The old Salmon mountain blaze in southeastern Idaho had been subdued, but large crews were still moving against it.

The Rennie district fire in southern Manitoba claimed all available men and planes in the district and was menacing valuable stands. Rains in Alberta had almost routed the major fires there but a few were still burning.

Lack of rain, frequent lightning storms, low humidity and careless campers were making this one of the most disastrous seasons for many years, forest officials said.

SHIFT OF WIND SAVES TOWN.

Winnipeg, Man., August 9.—(AP)—After a little of many hours to save the little town of Rennie, Man., from destruction by forest fires, a shift in the wind late yesterday brought relief, shooting the flames away from the settlement.

Roaring through bushlands, the flames had reached the half of Rennie, forcing the fire fighters back foot by foot as the women and children of the town prepared to depart on a special train, made up after a warning had been issued by forest rangers.

WOOL COUNCIL CREATION TALKED BY FARM BOARD

Washington, August 9.—(AP)—Questions relating to the possibility of creating an advisory commodity council for wool under the terms of the farm relief act were discussed today by a group of men interested in the industry and the federal farm board.

The organization of the wool cooperative marketing associations is considered to be such that an advisory council might be the best way of amalgamating the wool interests of the country and the board members desired to have the full facts.

An advisory council would function as the spokesman of all the wool co-operatives and would seek to bring about a maximum of efficiency in the marketing of the commodity and in promoting the most approved practices in the production and handling of wool.

The board had planned previously to hear a group of officials today but the cotton representatives now have arranged to appear next Tuesday. Some branches of the cotton industry also are advocating the creation of a commodity council for their product.

LIGHTNING HITS TWO, FIRES HOUSE IN MEMPHIS, TENN.

Memphis, Tenn., August 9.—(AP)—Two men were struck by lightning, a dwelling was set afire and power communication lines in North and South Memphis were put out of commission temporarily in an electrical storm here late today.

Warick A. Hazelwood, a patient at the Shelby county hospital, and J. W. Walton, an attendant, were struck by lightning. The men were in a barn at the hospital when the bolt struck. Both men were rendered unconscious. Walton was revived but Hazelwood required treatment. His condition was reported as serious.

BC Stops Headaches in 3 minutes

When one of those sick, raging, nervous headaches come, and you want relief in three minutes, go to any drugstore and get a package of "B-C," a wonderful new prescription, that is guaranteed safe and speedy, with no depression or bad after effects.

"B-C" relieves any headache, sciatic or neuralgia pain, because it contains several ingredients that function together for the relief of pain, regardless of its origin. The "B-C" formula is one of the most important medical discoveries of recent years, accomplishing as it does, in a few minutes, what no other one-drug preparation can do under one to three hours.

"B-C" is sold and guaranteed by all druggists in 10c and 25c packages.

Heat Record Still Intact As Rain Falls

Local weather conditions will be about the same today as Friday, in the opinion of C. F. von Herrmann, local meteorologist, who states that there is at least a chance for another brief shower and that in the event it arrives the mercury will be held within a reasonable range.

The minimum reading Friday morning was 74 degrees and another record-breaking day seemed to be in order. Jupiter, Plutus, however, put a stop to climbing aspirations with the result that 91 was the high figure for the day. Today's bottom and top figures probably will be 74 and 90, Mr. von Herrmann thinks.

ENGLISH SCOUTS PREVENT INJURY TO RED WORKERS

Birkenhead, England, August 9.—(AP)—Communists distributing literature recently at the great Boy Scout jamboree at Arrow park here were saved from serious injury by some of the English scouts. This was learned when four men were charged in court today with distributing communist literature and were bound over to keep the peace.

"If it had not been for the Boy Scouts these men would have been lynched by the public," declared the police superintendent.

A witness, a Boy Scout, supported this statement, whereupon one of the defendants asked, "why do you think that?"

"You would have been pretty badly damaged by the dominion scouts alone, who probably did not understand you as well as we did," the scout replied.

TENNESSEE GIRL SHOT BY HER LOVER REPORTED BETTER

Columbia, Tenn., August 9.—(AP)—Mabel Harrison, 17-year-old sweetheart of Gaston Sharp, whom he wounded seriously before killing himself, has taken a turn for the better, and doctors believe now she has an even chance for recovery. The change was "remarkable," physicians said. Sharp, 20, and a prominent land owner in this county, shot his sweetheart, daughter of a leading Columbia family, because he believed he "could not hold her." He fired a bullet into her head a short time after he called at her home to take her to church, and then turned the gun on himself. The wounded girl lay in his automobile beside the dead boy all night and was found yesterday after her parents started a search when they learned she had not been home.

RUM BOATS FLEE TO CANADA AFTER FIGHT WITH AGENTS

Detroit, August 9.—(AP)—Coast guards and rum runners engaged in a spectacular pistol battle in the Detroit river early today with craft of the rival forces racing down the center of the river less than 100 feet apart. No casualties were reported, although two of the guardsmen had narrow escapes. The rum runners escaped to Canada with their cargoes. The federal forces were under command of Joseph T. Hagglove, chief boatswain's mate. While patrolling the river they sighted a speedboat towing a loaded rowboat coming out from behind one of the small islands off the Ecorse shore.

Hagglove hailed the three men in the speedboat, ordering them to halt. A volley of shots was the answer. Hagglove and the two coast guardsmen under his command emptied their pistols twice before the runners escaped toward the Canadian shore.

One of the rum runners' shots scorched Hagglove's neck, slightly, while another shot the uniform cap from one of the guardsmen's head.

PLACE FOR FEDERAL HANGING REFUSED BY FLA. COUNTY

Miami, Fla., August 9.—(AP)—Denied use of either the roof of Broward county jail or the courtyard, federal authorities today were without a place to erect a scaffold and gallows for the hanging of Horace Alderman, convicted slayer of three government officials in a sea fight off the Florida coast in 1927.

Under an order of Federal Judge Halsted L. Ritter, Alderman must hang August 17 on the roof of the county jail. County officials, however, have demurred on the grounds that the roof of the jail is bonded by a roofing company and that use of it in this manner would cause the bond to be voided. The government, as second choice, asked if a scaffold and gallows could be erected in the courthouse yard, and this request was turned down.

Meanwhile, two county commissioners have interposed objections to the hanging on county property when two government reservations, one the coast guard base and another an Indian reservation, are nearby.

GERMAN, TRIED, CLAIMED TO BE SON OF KAISER BILL

Cologne, Germany, August 9.—(AP) Karl Hartung, 29, described as a businessman out of employment, appeared in court today on a charge of having committed a series of frauds and with having posed as an illegitimate son of the former kaiser and Princess Hermine.

The trial was delayed on the insistence of the defense that the princess, who now is in Germany, be summoned to testify whether she contributed to Hartung's financial support.

VENUE OF DRY SLAYER'S TRIAL TO BE SETTLED

Whether State or Federal Court Gets Case To Be Decided at Conference.

Detroit, August 9.—(AP)—Whether John M. Heath, Detroit elevator mechanic, is to be tried in state or federal courts for the slaying of Richard J. Sandlands, federal prohibition officer, is to be decided at a conference between John R. Watkins, United States district attorney, and James E. Chenot, Wayne county prosecutor, tomorrow morning.

Conviction of the slayer in the federal court would make the death penalty possible under federal statutes. Sandlands' body was found in the Detroit river Wednesday morning. An autopsy revealed that he died from a broken neck and not from drowning, as was stated by Heath and his wife, Maxine. Mrs. Heath also is held in connection with the federal officer's death.

Heath was arrested by federal officers, who surrounded and handcuffed him as he stepped from a Chicago train at the Michigan Central station this morning.

Mrs. Heath pleaded not guilty on her arraignment before J. Stanley Hurd, United States commissioner, on charges of having interfered with Sandlands in the performance of his duty, having resisted his attempt to seize his boat, and with having used a dangerous weapon against him. Shortly before her arraignment Mrs. Heath had been denied a writ of habeas corpus by Federal Judge Edward J. Moinet. She became hysterical upon this development and the examination was postponed until she recovered.

Mrs. Heath's bond was fixed at $25,000 and her examination set for next Friday.

Heath, who owned the cruiser Maxine, aboard which the struggle which resulted in Sandlands' death is believed to have taken place, had been missing since Sandlands disappeared. He communicated with federal authorities through his attorney Monday night and gave his version of the affair. Tuesday he failed to keep an appointment to appear in person.

That Heath was arrested in Canada for illegal possession of a case of beer and paid a fine of $200 was learned from Riverside (Ontario) authorities today. The arrest was made at Riverside July 7 and the fine was ordered in East Windsor police court.

Wales Flies to Paris—To Return by Air.

London, August 9.—(AP)—The Prince of Wales, who is one of the most "air minded" princes, today flew to France for a week-end on the continent. He will return to London by air on Tuesday.

Dr. White Returns

DR. SAM W. SMALE TO OCCUPY PULPIT AT GRANT PARK M.E.

Dr. John E. White, former widely-known Atlanta Baptist minister, will occupy the pulpit at the Second Baptist church for the next three Sundays. Dr. White also will deliver the sermon at the Sunday night union services conducted by the Capitol Hill churches on the Capitol grounds. His topic will be "What's the Matter With Georgia?"

All-Day Singing Service Planned At Whiteford Ave.

All-day singing and home-coming services will be conducted Sunday at the Whiteford Avenue Baptist church. The singing will start at 11 o'clock and will be interrupted at 12:30 o'clock for a picnic lunch on the church grounds. Singing will be resumed at 2 o'clock and will continue through the afternoon.

Special arrangements have been made for the musical program which will include numbers by Strand's quartet, "Dixie Billy" Lee's women's quartet, the Capitol quartet and other well-known singers will be present. J. B. Taylor will be in charge of the singing.

POOLROOM LICENSE DENIED BY RAGSDALE

Council Paper Granting Permission To Continue Operation Is Vetoed.

Declaring that he has been informed that the pool room "is objectionable to practically all business interests in the immediate vicinity," Mayor I. N. Ragdale Friday announced his veto of council resolution granting renewal of the license of the Metropolitan Billiard Parlor, at 31 Marietta street.

In his message to city council, Mr. Ragdale said: "I am returning without my approval resolution adopted by general council August 5, granting license renewal to operate the Metropolitan Billiard Parlor at 31 Marietta street."

"Investigators acting for the police committee returned an unfavorable report on this pool room's application for license. The police committee unanimously adopted its investigators' report and declined to recommend favorably on the petitioner's application."

"According to my information the pool room in question is objectionable to practically all business interests in the immediate vicinity. I also have information that the pool room has been a source of trouble to the police department for some time."

"The city of Atlanta is interested in making a lease on the present city hall property, and places of this nature nearby are a hindrance to the city on the eve of a large improvement program in this section of city, and it is my purpose to encourage only those enterprises that will add to the welfare and progress of our city."

School Paper Vetoed.

The mayor approved all papers submitted by him by city council Monday with the exception of the billiard room license renewal and the proposed change in control of the Atlanta public school system.

Stating that he favored a change in the Atlanta school system's administration, but declaring the merger plan "too vague," the mayor Friday morning vetoed the resolution seeking a merger of city and county schools.

The message follows: "General Council, "City of Atlanta, "Gentlemen: "I am returning, without my approval, resolution your honorable body adopted August 5, proposing a charter amendment combining the Atlanta and Fulton County school systems."

"In addition to calling broadly for a merger of the two systems, the paper specifically sets forth that 'the same plan shall be pursued with reference to that part of our schools lying in DeKalb County, that is, they shall be put under the school board of DeKalb county.' That plan would have the effect of putting the Atlanta school system under two county boards."

"I favor a change in our school system. I think the school board should be reduced in number and our school system put upon a more economic footing. The plan, however, should be outlined in a manner that leaves no doubt as to how it is to be accomplished. The present paper in the main is too vague and leaves many matters of greatest importance to be worked into a legislative bill without conciliatory action of a hearing of our citizens."

"The people had no opportunity to express themselves at a hearing before the charter revision committee prior to the measure being presented to council. Council itself did not have time to seriously study the paper. I talked with the city attorney about the paper following its passage. He said he thought that he and the county attorney could not do anything, but he failed to state definitely how it could be done."

"A measure of such wide scope, in my judgment, deserves more extensive consideration, and it must be more definite before I can add my approval to it."

"Respectfully, "August 9, 1929. "I. N. RAGDALE, Mayor."

THEATER MAGNATE HELD FOR ATTACK ON YOUNG DANCER

Los Angeles, August 9.—(AP)—Alexander T. Pantages, millionaire theater magnate, tonight was held under technical arrest by order of Police Captain Louis Canto for investigation of an alleged assault upon a 17-year-old dancer who had gone to Pantages' private office to arrange a vaudeville appearance.

Pantages denied the charges of the girl that he had attempted to attack her.

The millionaire was taken into custody shortly after 6 o'clock by a patrolman who answered calls from the theater. The girl, together with several witnesses, also were taken to police headquarters.

Pantages told Captain Canto he had booked Miss Pringle in a dancing act two weeks ago, but she had proved a failure. He said for two days she had frequented his office begging for another chance.

At 4:00 p. m. today, Pantages said, the girl came to his office and asked for an interview. After preliminary conversation he asserted she leaned over close to him and said, "I'll make you take my act."

He said she then pushed him into another office and ran into the hall.

Fred Weiss, who was in the hall, told police he heard the girl screaming, and saw Miss Pringle come from the office with Pantages following her. Weiss told police the clothing of the girl and the man were in disarray.

Services at the Mt. Gilead camp meeting will close Sunday night, it was announced Friday night by Charlie Tillman, who has charge of the musical program.

Services will be held today at 10:30 and at 7:30 o'clock. Dr. John S. Jenkins and Dr. Marvin Franklin will conduct the services while Rev. D. C. Starnes has charge of the special children's services.

MASSENGALE BETTER Slight Improvement Is Noted

The condition of St. Elmo Massengale, president of the Massengale Advertising Agency, late Friday night was reported to be "fairly good." Dr. Massengale has been seriously ill for several weeks. His slight improvement of Friday night was the first noted since that time. He is undergoing treatment at the Wesley Memorial hospital.

GROCERY IS ROBBED Unmasked Negro Gets $20 in Holdup.

Held up by an unmasked negro late Friday night, H. Brantlett, operator of a grocery at 207 Chappell street, was robbed of approximately $20, according to reports to police. No customers were in the store at the time, and a good description of the bandit was furnished Detectives P. M. Jones and J. J. Chester.

Temperance Board Answers Wet Press Attack on Cannon

VOTES CONFIDENCE AND LOVE FOR BISHOP

Fayetteville, Ark., August 9.—(AP)—The board of temperance and social service of the Methodist Episcopal church at its annual meeting here today voted "confidence, love and appreciation" of Bishop James Cannon, Jr., its absent president.

"We are not called upon to try Bishop Cannon," Dr. A. C. Miller, of Little Rock, editor of the Arkansas Methodist and host to the board members, declared. "We as a temperance body appreciate what he has done for temperance and for the cause of religion."

While it was not mentioned in the board meeting, the resolution of confidence resulted from what Dr. Miller said was the attempt of the "wet press" to embarrass Bishop Cannon in connection with his dealings in Wall Street securities.

The board received a telegram from Bishop Cannon today expressing his regrets he was unable to attend, as he was "sailing at once for Europe to attend an international conference."

Prohibition, Sunday blue laws, cigars, came in for much discussion among the members, while Dr. Harry L. Bowley, of New York city, general secretary of the Lord's Day Alliance, criticized Clarence Darrow as an "intellectual blatherskite" and H. L. Mencken and Irving Cobb as "destructive daubers in printers' ink," for their utterances in favor of less Sunday blue laws.

"The cry of blue laws is the body of many unthinking Americans," Dr. Bowley said. "What we need is less talk of that and more talk of red, white and blue laws that will uphold the constitution."

"When intellectual blatherskites like Clarence Darrow and destructive daubers in printers' ink like H. L. Mencken and Irving Cobb and the Earl Carroll of wine bathtub notoriety can use their talents for profit to help destroy morality, religion and respect for law, it is time to call a halt on such scandalous attacks on our greatest American institutions for the sake of the source of crime."

Mrs. W. I. Moody, of Little Rock, vice president of the Arkansas Anti-Saloon League, declared cigars comprised the source of crime.

"If we do nothing to suppress the cigar evil," Mrs. Moody said, "we are neglecting crime at its source."

Another partner also received a sentence, but it was commuted to probation. All four had pleaded guilty to federal and state indictments resulting from the failure.

James Rae Clarke, senior partner in the bank his grandfather founded, was sentenced to eight years in the federal penitentiary at Atlanta, Ga. He was also given a suspended sentence not to exceed eight years in the New York state penitentiary.

Philip L. and Hudson Clarke, Jr., brothers of the senior partner, and John F. Boulter, all partners in the defunct institution, were sentenced to a year and a day in the penitentiary at Atlanta. The sentence of Hudson Clarke, Jr., however, was commuted to two years' probation, the court indicating it was moved by compassion for his aged father, who was described as in needy circumstances.

The latter three partners also were sentenced to serve from a year and a day to two years and two days in state prison, the operation of the sentences being suspended.

Nearly 30 of the bank's depositors, mostly small tradesmen or working men and their wives, who earlier in the day were told that they might not collect more than 20 cents on the dollar of their savings, issued James Rae Clarke and shook their fists at him and chased his brother, Hudson Clarke, Jr., through the federal building. They were ejected from the courtroom after sentence had been passed on the elder banker, muttering dissatisfaction.

ALVIN YORK WINS FIGHT TO CONTROL TENN. SCHOOL

Nashville, Tenn., August 9.—(AP)—Sergeant Alvin York, hero of many battles and one of most outstanding figures in the World War, won another fight today. The Tennessee state board of education appointed him president and manager of the Alvin York Agricultural Institute in Pentress college after an 8-year fight during which his control of the school was contested by political and legislative methods.

Southern Road's Exhibit To Show Rail Advances

A tableau which might well be titled, "Then and now on the rails," will be offered the public at the Southern railroad tracks, at Tenth street and North Boulevard, this afternoon, when a replica of the "Best Friend of Charleston," the first locomotive built in America, is lined up beside "Maud," one of the Southern's oldest engines and the first of the road's newest and finest locomotives.

The "Best Friend" replica, specially constructed by the Southern, comes to Atlanta after a tour of more than 2,500 miles over the south. Drawing a special train, also a model of the ones used a century ago in this country, the old engine will leave the Brookwood station shortly before 3 o'clock this afternoon. Mayor I. N. Regisale, Governor L. G. Hardman, officials of the road and other prominent Georgians will be passengers as the strange train draws up to the exhibition ground at 3 o'clock. The three engines will be on exhibit there tonight and Sunday night.

BURGESS CHILDREN'S STORIES

BEARS, BEES AND HONEY.

BY THORNTON W. BURGESS.

In justice 'tis no more than right, To make the bully suffer fright. —Farmer Brown's Boy.

Farmer Brown's Boy was watching a sight he had never expected to have a chance to watch—two Bears in a tree. It didn't take him long to understand just what had happened. He knew that the smaller of those two Bears had found the honey and had climbed up to get some. There he had been discovered by the other Bear, who had promptly gone up to get his share. The smaller Bear, afraid of the bigger Bear, had gone on up the tree because he couldn't go down the tree. To go down the tree would have meant to meet the bigger Bear coming up. Farmer Brown's Boy knew that the smaller Bear was having because he was afraid. He knew that the whimpering and whining of the bigger Bear was because of the stings the latter was receiving from the angry bees. And that the growls and snarls of this Bear were intended to frighten the other Bear.

After a time Farmer Brown's Boy began to be sorry for the smaller Bear, which you know was Cubby Bear. "Buster Bear is just going to take all that honey," thought Farmer Brown's Boy. "That little rascal up above won't get any of it. No, sir, he won't get a taste of it. I wish I could scare Buster Bear away and give that youngster a chance. I do believe it is Cubby Bear. If it is, Cubby ought to know me. I believe I'll see what a yell will do. I've known Buster Bear to run from a yell before now. I don't know of any one more bashful than Buster Bear."

Farmer Brown's Boy waited a few minutes longer to enjoy the strange scene. Then he stood up and yelled. At the sound of his voice things happened at a fast and furious rate. They were surprising things. Buster Bear had just looked out a big pawful of comb dripping with honey. It never reached Buster's mouth. Instead, it was flung so that it fell halfway to where Farmer Brown's Boy was standing. A lot of bees followed it further. At the same time, big Buster Bear began to slide down that tree. And high up above him Cubby Bear also began to slide. Farmer Brown's Boy could simply stare open-mouthed with wonder. He hadn't supposed that any one as big as Buster Bear could come down a tree so fast. Once more he yelled. If that

BROTHER OF BURNS CHARGES PRISONER IS VICTIM OF PLOT

In support of his brother's petition for parole or pardon, the Rev. Vincent G. Burns of Palisade, N. Y., Friday filed with the Georgia prison commission an affidavit charging that testimony and affidavits made by the state in opposing his brother Robert Elliott Burns' plea for freedom were not supported by facts.

In his affidavit, the Rev. Mr. Burns says his brother has been at liberty seven years following his escape from the gang in Campbell county. His application for clemency was heard by the prison commission Thursday and taken under advisement.

CAMP AND LINDLEY FAMILIES TO HOLD REUNION SUNDAY

More than 200 persons from throughout the south are expected to meet Sunday at Grant park when the Camp and Lindley families hold their annual reunion. An all-day program of music, speeches and other entertainment has been arranged.

He landed with a thump landed with a thump and was on his feet and crashing away through the green forest before Farmer Brown's Boy could draw a long breath. But this wasn't all. Hardly had Buster Bear hit the ground when there was another thump and a half-grown Bear bounded to his feet and went tearing away in the opposite direction. That was Cubby Bear. He had done just what Buster had done—let go at the sound of that yell. The branches below had broken his fall, but even at that, he had landed with a thump that would have quite knocked the wind out of anybody but a Bear.

Farmer Brown's Boy laughed aloud. Then he came forward and looked up in the tree. He could see where Buster Bear had ripped the tree open. He could see that considerable comb and honey was left there. He was considering how he could get some of that honey when he felt a sharp pain in the calf of one leg. There was another sharp pain in the back of his neck and suddenly a swarm of bees were flying about him. Farmer Brown's Boy didn't stop to look any further. He started off at quite a good pace as had either Buster or Cubby Bear. And as he ran he was slapping at his neck and face.

So as last Busy Bee and her friends were left in peace and promptly set about finding another storehouse and moving what was left of their sweets. (Copyright, 1929, for The Constitution.)

SMART CAPE BACK

One of the newest ideas of Paris is the cape theme as sketched in Style No. 423 in peach shantung. The back view displays long sleeves and is very smart in either plain or printed silk crepe. The cape falls from back shoulders well below waistline which gives length to the silhouette, while the pointed yoke of circular flaring skirt, keeps the desired flaring through the hips. Crepe satin, chiffon, crepe Etonne, crepe de chine, printed rajah, pastel tub silks, printed chiffon, printed cotton voile and printed lawn appropriate. It is designed in sizes 16, 18, 20 years, 36, 38, 40, 42, 44 and 46 inches bust. Size 36 requires 4 yards of 40-inch material with 3 1/4 yards of binding. Price 15 cents in stamps or coin (coin preferred). Wrap coin carefully.

'Greek George,' Shoe Shine King, Joins Benedicts

"Greek George" Gialalis, the big shoe shine and hat cleaning man of Alabama street, blushing admitted Friday afternoon that he is a benedict. The new Mrs. Gialalis formerly was Sallie Jim Whitteyer, and they were married in New York two weeks ago today. George is 35. His bride is 26.

Miss Whitteyer went to New York about a month ago. She and George had been sweethearts for nearly eight years. George began to pine the day she left and before a week had passed he was en route to New York.

Shortly after George arrived in the metropolis he advanced the idea of getting married. No sooner said than done and an accommodating judge was found to tie the knot.

"Mrs. George now is in Louisville visiting relatives, while her newly

GOODMAN INDICTED

Larceny From House and Issuing of Bad Checks Charged.

Three larceny from the house indictments and three true bills charging issuance of fictitious checks were returned Friday by the Fulton grand jury against George Goodman, alias Jack Carr.

Goodman is charged with stealing money from the homes of Mrs. Maud C. Carr, 917 Peachtree; George W. Jenkins, 243 Fourteenth, N. E., and Mrs. T. E. Edwards, 1148 West Peachtree. The defendant is charged with issuing fictitious checks to Mr. Jenkins, Mrs. Cover and Mrs. Addie L. Bailey of 808 Myrtle, N. E. It is alleged that Goodman gave the checks in payment for board, and rifled the rooms of occupants of the homes.

$50,000 DAMAGES SOUGHT BY VICTIM OF AUTO ACCIDENT

A suit for $50,000 damages was filed in the city court of Atlanta Friday by A. D. Banks, of 131 East Hawthorne avenue, College Park, against Henry C. Hancock, of 303 Parkway Drive, for injuries alleged to have been received in an automobile accident on May 3. Banks alleges that the car in which he was a passenger as the guest of Zed Phillips was struck by Hancock's automobile, and that he received a fracture of the skull and other injuries. The petition was filed by Little, Powell, Smith and Goodstein.

Three Indicted.

Odel Blake, R. C. Chaney and Eric Pounds were indicted Friday by the Fulton grand jury on charges of robbing Mrs. Sarah Rosenberg, of 605 Highland, N. E., of $8 and Bennie Rosenberg of $2 on July 28.

ROBBERY CHARGED ALLEGED BANDIT HELD

Mitchell Indicted in Thefts From Prudden Home.

An indictment charging Sam Mitchell with burglarizing the home of George H. Prudden, 34 Maple drive, on July 14, was returned Friday by the Fulton grand jury. The true bill charged Mitchell with stealing an overcoat and a gold bar pin set with a diamond.

Walker Charged With Robbing and Beating Little.

Indictments charging Henry Walker with robbing Sam Little, 683 Durant place, of $38, and assault with intent to murder his victim, were returned Friday by the Fulton grand jury. The robbery and stabbing of Little were alleged to have occurred on July 14.

THE GOAL OF YEARS HAS BEEN ATTAINED!

THE 1930 HUPMOBILE SIX

It has long been the ambition of Hupp engineers to build a Hupmobile at a price within the thousand-dollar class . . . but each year they have said: "Let's wait until we can build, not just another automobile, but a greater Hupmobile. A car that will add new lustre to Hupmobile's 21-year prestige" . . . Today, this goal of years has been attained—in the new 1930 Hupmobile Six . . . It is a car which Hupp is proud to call a Hupmobile, because it IS a Hupmobile in every detail of its design and construction . . . It is powered by the selfsame Hupmobile motor which made the Hupmobile Century Six a spectacular success . . . It is built to the rigid Hupmobile standards of precision-manufacture . . . It is 100% a Hupmobile—but a more powerful Hupmobile. With its

Championship Series Begins Today in Sunday School League

EDGEWOOD NINE MEETS GRACE AT CLAY FIELD

Three Games Will Be Played To Decide Title Holder.

First of a three-game series for the championship of the Sunday School Athletic Association and also to see which team gets first possession of the beautiful 36-inch Southern States Life Insurance Company trophy will be played at Clay field Saturday, the game starting promptly at 3 o'clock.

Grace Methodist, champions of the American S. S. A., and Edgewood Baptist, winners of the National S. S. A., are the two participants. Edgewood went through the entire season without a defeat, while Grace knows the sting of defeat, being downed once.

Both clubs have some of the heaviest hitters of their respective leagues, and also the best pitchers in the two leagues. C. Maxey, twirler of the Edgewood crew, won 14 straight games for his side, while Van Brocklin and Gody Laird did most of the twirling for the Grace crew.

In McConnell and Jactus or Johnson, these two clubs have three of the four best catchers of the two leagues. In other words both clubs are by far the pick of the American and National leagues and a real battle should be the outcome.

In order to put the winner in the City series, a small admission will be charged.

The umpires have been assigned for these games, and this should make the battle run smoothly.

Some of the stars of Grace Methodist are McCrory, Green, one of the leading hitters in the American; Wilkerson, and Cook, while Edgewood will match Reeves, R. Maxey, Fowler, Ward and Roberts.

Grace Methodist—McCrory, ss.; Green, cf.; Wilkerson, 3b.; Galt, 1b.; Bond, rf.; Smith, lf.; Cook, 2b.; Jactus or Johnson, c.; Van Brocklin or Laird, p.

Edgewood Baptist—Reeves, cf.; Edmond, 3b.; R. Maxey, ss.; Fowler, 1b.; Ward, lf.; Roberts, rf.; Jones, 2b.; McConnell, c.; C. Maxey, p.

Bethany Faces Dixie Leaders.

Madison Park will be the scene of the feature game in the leagues sponsored by the Y-Church Athletic Association Saturday afternoon when the Bethany Methodist team will attempt to break the winning streak of the Northwest Atlanta tilters that has carried them to the top of the Dixie league, while the Bethany team boasts of a three-game victory string.

Patillo Memorial Methodist and Park Street Methodist should produce the best game of the Dixie league as both clubs are going strong. The former is trailing the league leaders by one-half game, Piedmont Park will be the battleground.

Center Street Methodist, topping the Fulton league ladder, will meet their strongest rival, Gordon Street Presbyterian, on the Atlanta Steel Company's diamond, Yonah's Park. Sewanee league celebrities, the leaders, Oakland City Baptist, and may furnish the big upset of the series.

The fans of Hapeville will be expected to witness the brand of ball that has carried the Baptist team of that city through to victory in every game this season. Mr. Zion Methodist will be the opponent.

The complete schedule for today follows:

DIXIE LEAGUE.
Bethany Methodist vs. North Methodist at North Methodist.

North Atlanta Baptist vs. Peachtree Christian at Atlanta Park.

Slugging Fielder Hits Three Homers

Seattle, Wash., August 9.—"Cranker" Wade, fourth baseman of the Seattle college athlete, has joined the ranks of baseball players who have hit three home runs in one game.

Wade, now outfielder for the Seattle club of the Pacific Coast league, made a step outside the big show as baseball ratings go—banged the three circuit drives in a recent game against the Hollywood team on the latter's field. He was at bat four times. He had also hit for the circuit the day before.

"Cranker" christened Charles Winfield Wade, hails from Morehead City. After finishing at State he joined the Winston-Salem Twins, of the Piedmont, from whom he was purchased by Detroit. He was optioned last season to Evansville in the Three-E league and this year was sent to Seattle.

CUP TOURNEY AT INGLESIDE

Qualifying Rounds in Annual Meet Will Be Played Today.

Qualifying rounds for the annual Forest Hills cup tournament at the Ingleside Golf Club will be played today over the Ingleside course near Avondale Estates. The 16 lowest qualifying scores will be played in the championship flight and as many other flights will be made as are necessary.

Match play will start Sunday and all matches will be completed during the week, with the finals to be played Sunday, August 18. Jimmy Livingston, club professional, will be in charge of the tournament.

Davidson-Paxon Meet Delayed.

Employees of the Davidson-Paxon Company will not play today in the regular weekly golf tournaments. It was announced Friday afternoon that the tournament for today has been postponed and will be played next Saturday.

Medal Tourney At Druid Hills.

A one-day medal play tournament, to be played Friday, was announced Friday. It has not been determined whether or not it will be a flag or a blind handicap tournament, but will be announced shortly after the noon hour today.

Matches Played In Oil Tourney.

Four matches were played Friday afternoon on the East Lake course in the Texas Oil Company trophy tournament. J. C. Coe defeated J. C. Ison, 2-2, and L. R. Hunter defeated P. G. Lombard, 3-2, in the championship flight.

Steve Hartner and Roy Burns ended their match all square at the end of 18 holes and will play another 18-hole match this afternoon. J. C. Thomson defeated E. F. McLaughlin, 2-1, in the other match of the second flight.

Ansley Park Matches Played.

Ansley Park golfers completed two matches Friday in the club handicap tournament now in progress over the Ansley Park course. Charles Strong defeated C. R. Perry, 7-6, in the semifinals of the championship flight and W. A. Faust defeated W. A. Sharpe, 3-2, in a semi-final match of the fourth flight.

The Perry-Strong match was one of the best of the week, despite the one-sided score. Strong was "right" and shot a 68, which equaled Perry's for the course. He made one error in 33 and was two strokes over that figure on the second nine, making a total of 68. It was the first time in many weeks that the pair has been equalled on the course.

Passenger Team Defeats Freighters

With Williams pitching airtight baseball while his mates were hitting in the punches, the Auditors of Passenger Accounts defeated the Auditors of Freight Accounts, 3 to 1, Friday afternoon, at Brisbane park, in the Southern Railway league.

Williams allowed the losers only two hits and struck out four batters. He was also the hitting star for the winners, with two hits out of three times at bat. Nesbit also secured two hits for the winners.

Owens pitched for the losers and gave up only eight hits, but four errors paved the way for his loss. In the third inning with the bases filled he tightened up and the winners did not score a run.

Mary Browne Says U. S. Victory Certain

Only a Miracle Can Prevent America From Winning, Says Former Champion.

By Mary K. Browne, Former National Women's Singles Champion.

Forest Hills, N. Y., August 9.—The Wightman cup series stands two points for the United States and one for Great Britain.

Only a miracle can prevent the United States from regaining the trophy, now that Helen Jacobs' defeat of Betty Nuthall has put the doubtful match to the credit of the Stars and Stripes. The two Helens need only win their singles tomorrow and we have the series. Helen Willis will undoubtedly beat Betty Nuthall.

Helen the Second should win from Mrs. Watson. Today Helen Willis, exactly according to schedule, scored her victory over Mrs. Watson, 6-1, 6-4.

Only for a thrilling moment in the last set did it look as though the English player might cover herself with glory and force Helen with her first defeat set in two years' play.

Mrs. Watson played her very best but could make no headway against the invincible game of the world champion.

HEARTBREAKING.

The English girl's best shots were successfully returned by Helen with a mechanical precision, which was heart-breaking to Mrs. Watson's weak returns. Helen polished off in superb fashion. There are many who can play and make the opening they want but seem unable to take advantage of it.

Helen Willis is more nearly perfect than ever. She put on the finishing touches when she improved her rallies and overheads so that there is nothing more for her to do but to win.

The key match of the series was lost by England, when Betty Nuthall was defeated by Helen Jacobs, 7-5, 6-8.

BETTY LOSES EDGE.

It was a heart-breaking tie for English fans. Betty Nuthall, who had the edge throughout the first set and went into an early lead, when suddenly she broke the first rule of tennis tactics—she changed a winning game—she stopped hitting hard. Helen Jacobs was quick to take advantage of the lapse and took the set. Both girls showed great fighting spirit.

It is not surprising that England's 18-year-old girl, who takes would be one of strategy for that department of the game comes only with a mature game.

Again, I believe she put on the Jacobs' forearm too consistently. As it so often happens, she hammered it into a weapon against herself. I am writing all this in a friendly spirit of criticism for I like this English girl. Furthermore, I mean not to detract from our sturdy fighter, Helen.

I see an amazing improvement in Helen Jacobs' game. She has developed it through hard work and plays with an industry that has paid her good wages in the form of victories.

WIN IN DOUBLES.

Again according to schedule England's "back up" doubles team, Mrs. Mitchell and Mrs. Watson, scored a decisive victory over Helen Willis and Edith Vross. Mrs. Mitchell was rolling with the criticism, dispatch and clever angles of Elizabeth Ryan or Mrs. Wightman, while Mrs. Watson from back court made the opening for Mrs. Mitchell to clear the point. Helen Willis has never played good doubles except with Mrs. George Wightman, mainly, I believe, because Helen thinks in terms of singles and cares very little for the doubles play. It shows what players working together can do with team work when individually Helen Willis would eat them alive in single combat.

Edith Vross was playing well, but the American team was no match for the Brits, who have twice won the world championship and captured the theory prevalent nowadays, that a good doubles team should be up and back together. The way these girls work it, Mrs. Mitchell fairly bangs over net so that she can angle her rallies and need not being lobbed over, for her partner is in the back court and retrieves these balls.

THE BIG INNING.

Pat Hayes grounded out to open for the Crackers. Nick Cullop, who had been hitting them right on the head all afternoon with no success, drew a walk. It was then that Dick Burrows, with a double and single and three runs driven in to his credit, banged that shot that shook off the shackles of defeat. It scored Cullop. It blew Johnny Singleton off the mound.

Clay Howard came running in. Jim Battle shot a single to right field. Archie Yelle dumped one down toward second and Dick Burrows scored. Climax Blithen filled the bases by beating out one down the third base line. He batted for Bull Rauch. The bases were filled.

MORE RUNS.

Hal Lee slapped one at Dowling and he threw to the plate. Battle slid in and knocked the ball from his hand to score another run. Sheehan forced Yelle at the plate but Parham drew a walk to force Hay. Pat Hayes, who had made the first out, then made the last one.

Joe Kiefer held the Lookouts in the ninth and the losing streak was ended. The Crackers started the game well with a three-run total in the first inning but failed to hold it. The Lookouts kept increasing their runs until they finally surged ahead in the eighth.

It was then that the Crackers showed they had not forgotten how to fight and pulled the game out from under the Lookouts and Crackers will play again today, meeting at 2:30 o'clock at Spiller field.

LOOKOUTS LOSE, 9 TO 7

erves and trying desperately to hold the margin of victory.

Johnny Johnston, just out of a losing streak during a Boston series, threw three pitchers into the flint mill in the eighth inning in an effort to maintain his two-run lead.

SINGLETON BLOWS.

Johnny Singleton got one out and then blew up with one of those loud, resounding bangs. Chester Howard hurried out to the hill as cold as a vampire's heart. He went away in a hurry with the crack of the baseball bats sounding harshly in his ears.

Bill Beck came along and attempted to stem the rout. He couldn't. The bases stayed full as long as the eighth inning that there was some talk of passing a Jones law to get them emptied.

BURRUS STARS.

It was the hickory bat of Dick Burrus that started the Lookout pitchers on their precipitous descent. He had already driven in three runs when the double to score Nick Cullop and blew Johnny Singleton from the mound. The Lookout pitchers never recovered from that blow.

The story of the eighth is really the story of the ball game. The Crackers entered it leading, 5 to 3, and the game seemed safe enough. Red Olham had been wobbling a bit but he was pulling through with some nice pitching and good support.

Ray Treadaway beat out one to start the eighth. It bounded through Olham and Jim Battle, subbing for the suspended Johnny Jones. Sammy Vick came right in there with a two-base lick and Treadaway struck out over to third.

RAUCH GOES IN.

Bull Rauch came in from the bullpen and replaced Red Olham. Shatters almost tore off Rauch's leg with one and Treadaway bounded on home. Jim Wright whacked one out to right field that Rob Parham came in too far to get. It sailed on over his head to the bleachers and Sammy Vick's sac fly counted for the Crackers. Parham counted to give the Lookouts a lead of one run. Rauch got Johnson out but Wright scored on Dowling's sac fly. The bases were full and the Crackers were jubilant.

Nothing of a definite nature has been done but there is a real possibility that the Crackers will win the series. The attendance has been off to an alarming degree in some cities. What really frightens the master minds of the moguls, however, is the fact that Old John Public, the man with the 25-cent piece, seems to be able to take his baseball or leave it alone with alarming ease.

OLD ONES GONE.

The old-style baseball fan who rooted for the home team in fair weather or foul seems to have gone off to the happy hunting-ground with Lo, the Poor Indian.

There is pretty sure to be a change in the personnel of ownership in the Dixie circuit. There might even be one at Atlanta.

HENNESSEY-LOTT TEAM BREAKS

Championship Doubles Team Splits Because of Age Differences.

Chestnut Hill, Mass., August 9.—(United News.)—George Lott, Jr., of Chicago, and John Hennessey, of Indianapolis, national doubles tennis champions, have broken their partnership and will not defend their title on the Longwood Cricket Club courts here during the week of August 20.

This became known today when Longwood officials announced the entry of Lott, youthful Davis cup singles player, in combination with John Doe, of Santa Monica, Cal., instead of with Hennessey with whom he played last year.

Lott and Doe, close friends, were the Davis cup alternates during the 1927 season. That year they went to the finals of the Newport, R. I., doubles and to the semi-finals of the national doubles championship.

Last year, Lott, after returning from abroad, teamed with Doe to win the doubles at Southampton, N. Y., and at Newport. His decision to play short Hennessey, a long-time champion at Longwood was made at the request of the Western Tennis Association. Lott promised Doe that, regardless of the outcome of his pairing with Hennessey, he would renew their old partnership in the 1929 tournament.

Questioned concerning the reasons for his new alignment, Lott, who is vacationing on Cape Cod, said: "We're looking ahead. Johnny Doe is only 20, and John Hennessey is 29. I'm 21. So Doe and I have reason to look toward a long and successful partnership. Last year, Hennessey and I played together at the request of the Western Association, but we have no strings this year and we can play with Doe."

Among the combinations which the Lott-Hennessey team defeated in winning the national doubles championship last year were the Australians, Hopman and Crawford; the Frenchmen, Cochet and Brugnon; and the Australians, Patterson and Hawkes.

NEW PILOTS ARE LOOMING

WILLIAM WRIGLEY.

The latest one is that William Wrighley, the stenographer's friend, and owner of the Chicago Cubs and various California clubs, is prepared to buy into the Mobile franchise and put a baseball club in there. Even if this latest "sale" is denied there will be another one bobbing up within a short time. A new owner at Mobile is likely. Much more likely than a move of the franchise.

Nothing of a definite nature has been done but there is a real possibility that the Crackers will win the series. The attendance has been off to an alarming degree in some cities. What really frightens the master minds of the moguls, however, is the fact that Old John Public, the man with the 25-cent piece, seems to be able to take his baseball or leave it alone with alarming ease.

There is pretty sure to be a change in the personnel of ownership in the Dixie circuit. There might even be one at Atlanta.

Champs Lose.

Two champions were knocked out in one week. Andrew Routis, featherweight king, was stopped by Al Singer in a non-title bout, and Jackie Fields put over a knockout on Joe Dundee, the much-abused welterweight champion.

NAVY SCHNEIDER RACE PLANE GIVEN TESTS

Pilot Pleased Over Taxing Test, Run at 106 Miles Per Hour.

Associated Press Aviation Editor.
Annapolis, Md., August 9.—(P)—Amid sprays of water which sometimes almost obscured the tiny plane, Lieutenant Al Williams made the taxing tests of his Schneider trophy racer on the Severn river here today.

The huge crack naval pilot was smiling and satisfied when the tests were completed. He had pushed the little plane across the water at 106 miles an hour, just at the verge of take-off speed.

Tomorrow he will take the mercury racer into the air for the first time. He estimates it will leave the water at 110 miles an hour.

"It did as well as could be expected," Williams said. "I was well pleased. There is so much horsepower and so little wing surface that the course of the engine tends to throw one wing down, but I found the way to overcome that."

If the flight test tomorrow is satisfactory, Williams will take the plane to England for the Schneider races at Cowes September 6 and 7 in an effort to wrest the trophy from Great Britain.

It has been indicated that the plane will have to substantially exceed the present world's record of 318 miles an hour before the pilot will decide to take it abroad.

Williams taxied the plane over the Severn for 45 minutes this afternoon feeling out the controls to learn the best method of getting off the water and the characteristics of the plane while taxing. Great sprays of water were thrown up as Williams opened the engine and he was drenched to the skin. At the higher speed, however, when the plane rode on the steps of the pontoon, the spray ceased.

The plane bounced up and down on the water considerably but Williams explained he did this purposely to determine the best method of handling it. He expects to make the first flight test before noon tomorrow.

RUM RUNNER'S BOAT IS BURNED TO WATER'S EDGE

Fort Erie, Ont., August 9.—(P)—The burning of a rum-running boat to the water's edge at the docks in Buffalo yesterday is attributed by police and customs officials to hijackers who, it is believed, set it afire after seizing its cargo.

Prior to the outbreak on the boat a small sedan loaded with Canadian ale was seized near the Buffalo-Fort Erie ferry dock. The driver of the car abandoned it and fled. Soon after his disappearance the vessel was seen in flames. Beer of the same brand as that in the car was found in the ruins of the boat, police said.

15 BROOKS COUNTY BOYS GO TO CAMP

Quitman, Ga., August 9.—(Special).—Fifteen Brooks County 4-H Club boys are in Athens this week at Camp Williams. They were accompanied by County Agent Gaddis and Assistant Agent L. J. Strickland.

The list of boys attending the camp include Joe Gay, Rennie Eddie, Herbert Hodge, Cecil Rhodes, Ullmer Renfro, Hammon, R. H. Harrell, Ray Groover, Harrell Long, Francis Wilson, John P. Duncan, Horace Miller, Clarence Miller, Herman McGoy and Francis Roberts. They will be in Athens for 10 days.

PLAN MAIL ROUTE FROM CINCINNATI TO CHARLESTON

Cincinnati, Ohio, August 9.—(P)—An air mail line from Charleston, S. C. to Cincinnati via Winston-Salem, N. C. and Roanoke, Va., is being developed by the proposed new air mail route between St. Louis and New York city, in the event Cincinnati is placed on the line, it is planned by officials of those cities.

It is their desire to hook up with Cincinnati so that mail from Charleston and way points for New York, Chicago and Atlantic and Pacific coast cities may reach extreme destinations within 24 to 36 hours.

W. P. Hunter, city manager, Roanoke, and E. R. Johnson, president of the Roanoke Automobile Club, spent yesterday here conferring with C. O. Sherill, city manager, and Arthur L. Reimyer, postmaster, in furtherance of their plans.

GRAVES KEEPS CLEAR OF IMPEACHMENT CASE

Alabama Governor Announces He Will Take No Action in Proceedings.

Birmingham, Ala., August 9.—(P)—With Governor Bibb Graves announcing that he will take no action before Monday in regard to impeachment proceedings urged against Judge C. E. Thomas, state superintendent of banks, officials marked time today investigation of bank conditions in the Birmingham district which was climaxed Tuesday when a Jefferson county grand jury indicted 18 persons in a four-week probe.

Governor Graves' announcement followed a conference late yesterday with a committee of the state banking board and E. W. McLeod, of Huntsville, president of the Alabama Bankers' Association.

The governor indicated that this committee, including McLeod, Olaus Jordan, of Center, Ala., and Walter Henley and Sam King, of Birmingham, had been asked to make recommendations to what action the state would take.

Presentation of impeachment proceedings against Judge Thomas probably will be made before the state supreme court by Attorney General C. C. McCall.

Meanwhile, the 18 persons indicted by the grand jury have been placed under arrest and allowed bond, pending trial which is expected to be set in the fall term of criminal court.

The governor said no further action was contemplated until members of the board of the association present could confer with other banks of the state. Board members present were Olaus Jordan, of Center, Ala.; Walter Henley, of Birmingham, and Sam King, of Ensley.

AGED SUPERIOR AT CONVENT GIVES LIFE TO SAVE SIXTY

Portsmouth, Eng., August 9.—(P)—Sister Celestine, acting Mother Superior of St. Patrick's convent, Hayling Island, gave her life today to save 60 sick children and seven other nuns from fire which broke out in the island convent.

Sister Celestine, after discovering the fire, calmly directed the evacuation and then returned to the flaming building to make sure nobody had been forgotten.

She was overcome by the smoke and was found dead near the altar by firemen who arrived after all the other inmates had been saved. The convent was used by Roman Catholic authorities as a convalescent home for the poor children of London.

HOOVER'S HOME TOWN TO CELEBRATE
HIS 55TH BIRTHDAY

West Branch, Iowa, August 9.—(P)—President Herbert Hoover's fifty-fifth birthday will be observed here tomorrow with the placing of markers beside the small frame home in which he was born.

The Iowa City Chapter of the Daughters of the American Revolution will dedicate a granite boulder weighing more than one and a half tons which it has placed in the yard. A bronze plate on the boulder will identify the house.

Professor Benjamin F. Shambaugh, of Iowa City, superintendent of the state historical society, will give the principal address.

The bronze plate will bear the following inscription: "Birthplace of Herbert Hoover, first president of the United States born west of the Mississippi river. Marked by the Daughters of the American Revolution."

BOY SCOUTS OFFER BLOOD TO YOUTH IN N. C. HOSPITAL

Asheville, N. C., August 9.—(P)—Owen Coleman, Jr., of Baltimore, was slowly regaining his strength at a hospital here today following a blood transfusion last night.

Fifty Boy Scouts of the Fletcher troop offered the life-giving fluid, but physicians decided at the last minute to use the blood of the child's father.

The boy became critically ill after an appendectomy operation. He and his parents were visiting relatives at Fletcher.

PASTOR CALLS CHICAGO HEAVEN FOR CROOKS

Fayetteville, Ark., August 9.—(P)—Dr. Marvin C. Haw, of Kansas City, president of the Missouri Anti-Saloon League, in an address before the annual meeting of the board of temperance and social service of the Methodist Episcopal church, south, here today declared "our cities are hotbeds of lawlessness, prejudice and crooked politics," and blamed them for the "law enforcement of the Volstead act."

"Chicago is seventh heaven for crooks of all kinds, including bootleggers," St. Louis never has sent a man to the state prison for violation of prohibition laws nor padlocked a booze joint and is considered the most lawless city in the Midwest.

Dr. Haw said his home city of Kansas City "is not unlike other cities."

He declared the small or rural communities are "dry in name and practice."

The meeting will close tonight with a prayer by H. L. Bowley on "A Call to Colors."

Tomorrow the Methodist laymen's conference will convene and some of the speakers at the board session will remain to speak to the ministers.

H. A. Boaz, of Arkansas; W. F. Mc Murray, of Missouri, and Sam Hay will address the assembly also.

RIFLES ARE TAKEN FROM DRY AGENTS

Washington, August 9.—(P)—A ban against the use of rifles by federal prohibition agents except in sparsely settled or mountainous sections is planned by Commissioner Doran in an effort to reduce the number of prohibition agents.

The prohibition commissioner, in announcing the plan today, said it was intended as a safety move to keep down the number of rifles.

Under this decision, enforcement agents in settled communities will have to depend for protection upon service revolvers, but in mountainous and sparsely settled regions they will continue to use rifles.

No formal order will be issued, Doran said, but he will discuss the matter by correspondence with the administrators.

The ban on the prohibition bureau show that since the law went into effect 142 persons have been killed by prohibition agents and 25 enforcement officers have lost their lives.

The ban is intended to reduce the number of fatalities among the border patrolmen, who are not under the prohibition bureau.

Doran and Seymour Lowman, assistant secretary of the treasury in charge of prohibition enforcement, both said rifles were necessary for protection of the agents in the mountainous sections.

The agents went into the mountains to enforce the prohibition law without rifles," Lowman declared, "they might as well throw up their hands and say: 'Here I am; shoot me.'"

Doran added that revolvers would afford little protection to the officers against the long-range rifles carried by the mountaineer moonshiners.

In commenting upon the liquor situation around Detroit the commissioner said it was "well in hand."

He made a report that he planned to equip the agents in that section with machine guns to combat rum runners.

FOUR OF FAMILY SUFFOCATED AS HOME IS BURNED

St. Albans, Vermont, August 9.—(P)—Oakley Longway, 42, a laborer, and three of his 10 children died from suffocation in a fire in a tenement house here today.

The fire broke out in the home of Frederick G. and Francis A. Mrs. Longway carried an infant to safety and three other children jumped to the street from a window and were unhurt.

The fire was confined to the room in which Longway and his three children were sleeping and was quickly brought under control.

Old Oak Bucket Plunks Into Mine; Damages Are Asked

Chattanooga, Tenn., August 9.—(P)—Well, well, the Old Oak Bucket has caused a damage suit.

Mrs. Nannie McHensley owns the top of a mountain near Molokay, Tenn., where the old oak bucket was found. There was a well of cold, refreshing water and an old oak bucket at the top. But there was coal at the base.

The company mined its coal and recently when Mrs. McHensley lowered her bucket into the well it kept going down and "plunked" into the mine. Investigation revealed all the spring water had run into the chambers below.

Mrs. McHensley contended the company had ruined her well by weakening the roof of the mine. She asked $3,000 damages.

Revival Ends.
Barnesville, August 9.—(Special).—Rev. J. A. Spradberry and Rev. H. S. Smith have just ended a revival meeting at the Miller Methodist church. A number of additions were made to the church.

LOW GRADE TOBACCO DROPS MARKET PRICES

Lowest Figure of Season Registered on Valdosta Markets.

Macon, Ga., August 9.—(P)—Close to a million dollars passed into the hands of tobacco growers of southern Georgia today for their offerings of bright leaf on the 22 markets.

Baxley reported that the best grade brought 45 cents per pound, but in most markets the weed was of a low grade and consequently failed to bring the high price that prevailed during the second week of the season.

Quittman's high price was 37 cents, and Blackshear reported a high of 41.

A continuation of a large offering of inferior grades of tobacco at Valdosta forced the price down to the lowest figure of the season. There was a reduction of tonnage, however, and sales during the coming week are expected to fall off in volume.

A million pounds brought to Valdosta warehouses overnight blocked the sales there. Prices were reported better at Vidalia than on the previous day.

Claxton reported 60 per cent of the total crop sold.

The record of sales in the various markets follows:

Markets	Pounds	Total	Average
Adel	207,000	$35,182.10	20.00

CHICAGO ICE CREAM STRIKE IS DECLARED

Chicago, August 9.—(P)—An ice cream "famine" faced Chicago today. The strike voted last week by the Ice Cream Workers' Union was to start today and unless some settlement was reached immediately it seemed probable that there would be a shortage over the week-end.

Although it previously was planned to wait until hot weather should create a larger demand for their product, union officials decided not to wait any longer and the 450 union members in 35 factories were instructed not to go to work today.

The moderately warm temperatures of the last few days were expected to continue over the week-end.

There was enough ice cream on hand to last the day out and the effect of the strike was not expected to be felt until tomorrow.

The union demands a wage scale of $60 a week for skilled men and a minimum of $27 a week for girls and women who wrap ice cream bricks.

The union also demands a 10 per cent increase in wages for other classes of workers. The union also asks two weeks vacation each year with pay and other concessions. The ice-cream workers' union, composed of manufacturers, has refused to recognize the union.

Residence Looted.
Burglars who seemingly had a penchant for firearms ransacked the residence of M. L. Wheeler, 492 Sydney street, S. E., Friday afternoon and early Saturday night, left jewelry worth $200 to $300 lying on the floor and took only two pistols and a market basket. Wheeler reported to Call Officers M. O. Ellis and E. H. Norwood.

JAHNCKE RETURNS TO WASHINGTON AFTER INSPECTION

Washington, August 9.—(P)—Assistant Secretary Jahncke, of the navy, has returned to Washington from a two months' inspection of naval activities on the Pacific and on the Gulf of Mexico, convinced that the service could teach the business world something of efficiency.
